MISS PALMER'S CONCERT.

In response to Miss Palmer's invitation, a large audience assembled in the Temperance Hall on Saturday afternoon to hear an exceptionally good programme of instrumental and vocal music rendered by Miss Palmer and her pupils, with the assistance of several ladies and gentlemen. The first seven items were performed by the pupils. The concert opened with the overture to "Zampa," played on two pianos by Misses Whiting, Hellicar, and Wootton, followed by a trio by the Misses Rech and Miss Ironsides, a piano solo by Miss Wootton, a trio by Misses Bolton and Whiting, a piano solo by Miss M. Ironsides and Miss Jessie Hellicar, and a Spanish dance (duet) of Moszkowsia's, played by the Misses Enid and Elaine Whiting. Miss Palmer's pupils do her great credit, both in the finish and style of their playing

On the 16th inst. It is always pleasant to chronicle an evening of real enjoyment to little folks, and Mr. and Mrs. Aston J. Watkins' ball (fancy dress) which took place at their residence, Coeldangred, Randwick, on the evening of June 22, might fairly be reckoned among such. There were about 40 small guests, some of the dresses being very pretty. Miss Yvonne Leverrier, who, by the-way, is a most promising little student of the violin, appeared as Madame de Pompadour; Miss Enid Whiting as a Spanish lady, and Miss Sylvia Whiting as Snowflake. 'The Girl Graduate (Miss Hilda Alecks), French Peasant (Miss Jeanne tiauveron), Red Riding Hood (Miss Eileen Marshall), and Toreador (Master Keith Whiting), were all present, and the hostess also adopted the pretty and picturesque costume of a Normandy peasant, while Master Jack Watkins appeared as an Iolanthe pour. Among the other children we noticed the Misses Edie and Alice Rich, Miss Elaine Whiting, Misses Lottie and Rubv Lee, Miss Jessie Hellicar, Master Victor ATecks, Miss Lily Fesq, the Masters Fesq, Master Harry tiauveron, Master Tom Alatrinson, Master Anderson, Master Willie tilierwin and others.

The success attendant on Miss Palmer's concert on April 7 was met half way by a lovely moonlit evening, and perfect harmony resulted. The Y.M.C.A. Hall was crowded with a gaily-dressed assembly of friends and relatives, who grow wildly enthusiastic as each family idol appeared and made her little bow. Miss Palmer, amongst other things, is to be greatly congratulated on having selected bright, crisp, effective, and short pieces for her pupils, although they all played very well indeed, it is possible to tire of long-winded pupils' pieces. Graceful delicate fingering, marked time, musical appreciation, and absence of playing for effect, were the predominating features of the first part of the programme. Miss Elaine Whiting, Miss Wooten, Miss Wolinski, Misses Powell, Bolton, Coppard, Holloway, and Clarke, Misses Eecb and Ironside, Misses Alderson, Whiting, Miss Foster and Master Tooth, Miss Enid Whiting, and Miss Mackay were the young ladies who discoursed really sweet music which was enjoyed by all. Many baskets and bouquets rose to the occasion, and these unexpected tributes were received with refreshing modesty. Miss Palmer managed everything herself, and deserves the plaudits that greeted her pupils, for they have been excellently trained. Probably many who played so prettily to the big audience are the ones who would say if asked to play at home : " Oh, no, we can't play a note," but it is to be hoped the Bystra of training received will banish all such unwomanly timidity. Pupils concerts like this are pleasurable all round. Miss Portas gave a grand recitation of " The Ballad of Silence," the weird attire was very effective, and her dramatic intonation, pathos, and force enhanced the solemn beauty of the piece. Mr. Evans Harp was indisposed, suffering from prevailing moist weather, hoarseness, so we lost a musical treat. Mr. Chambers kindly and most effectively filled the vacant chair, and sang a beautiful thing that suited his mellow cultured voice, Mr. Poussard accompanying on the violin. A quartette by Messrs. Evans, Bates, Chambers, and Walcot was a masterpiece of harmony, their voices blended in perfect unison, the absence of accompaniment being like a rippling sea without the waves of ferry boats. Miss Deane's powerful voice was like a fountain of water which could be thrown anywhere at will, soaring up in pure sweetness, then breaking into floods of, melody, rippling, into tricklets and bursts of tiny broken waterfalls; floating like spray glistening, and leaping from high to low with ease.

MISS PALMER'S CONCERT.

There was an overflowing audience at Broadwood's rooms, George-street, last night, when the pupils of Miss Palmer, with the aid of excellent vocalists, gave a concert. The pianoforte performers included beginners as well as advanced pupils. Liiree uutiiueis must be selected for special praise, the Balerd " (Kavina) by Miss Elaine Whiting, Chopin's Rondo in G" by Mr, Childe and Miss Palmer, and Chopin's Polonaise " by the Misses Blake and Cox. The Peer Gynt " suite (Grieg) by the Misses Whiting was also above the average amateur effort.

A MATINEE MUSICALE.

The third matinee musicale given by the pupils of that well-known and' respected professor of the violin, Herr Wentzel, and at which their friends and the public had an opportunity of judging the progress made, took place at the Y.M.C.A. Hall, Pitt-street, on Saturday, at 3 p.m. There was a large and fashionable audience, and an exceptionally good programme, which opened with an arrangement by Hermann of Gounod's 'Nazareth,' played by the pupils en masse. The other soloists were Miss Henry, Miss Daphne Armstrong, Miss May Henry, the Misses Enid and Elaine Whiting, and Miss A Ludowici.

GARDEN FETE AT RANDWICK

In aid of the Randwick and Coogee Sick and Poor Relief Society a garden fete was held on Saturday in the grounds of Mr W G. Whiting of Astolat, Frenchman's-road, Randwick. Mrs David Storey briefly declared the fete open. The Permanent Artillery Band, under Bandmaster Devery, was pre-sent, and played a short programme of music. In the evening several ladies and gentlemen contributed to a musical programme. The stalls and stallholders were as follow: -Cake stall, Mesdames H.F. Francis and S T Bryen, assisted by Miss Lowe, Miss Ada Lowe, and Miss Louie Lowe; young ladies' fancy stall, Misses Whiting, Hunt, Hellicar, Nellie Bolton, Ruth Beale, and Ina Armstrong; sweets stalls, Mesdames A W Meeks and W T Waters, assisted by Misses Consie Armstrong, Jack Daly, Lucy Bolton, Waters, and Meeks; flower and fruit stall, Mesdames David Storey, Scott, and Boston, assisted by Misses Kelsey, Beale, and Hughes; "bran pie," Miss Sylvia Whiting, tea and refreshment room, Misses Richards, Mills, Butler, Walford, Robertson, Jones, and Elaine Whiting

SOCIAL,

A numerous company assembled at Ascham, Darling Point, at 11 o'clock on the 19th instant, when, at the invitation of Miss Wallis, Mrs. Lingen distributed the prizes to the pupils. In the programme musical numbers alternated with recitations in French, German, and English. In the last a scene from 'The Rivals,' studied under Mr. Laurence Campbell, was given by Misses Lingen, Marks, Boyle, and Dixson with excellent effect. Miss Gladys Mort 'L'echeveau de fil,' Miss B. Macdonald 'L'enfant et le Miroir,' Miss Ethel Lingen 'Le Meunier de Sans Souci,' and Misses Q. Mort and E. Latham in 'Une amie d'enfance,' contributed the French ; * 'Der Blumen Bache,' by Miss Ethel Latham, represented the German ; whilst Miss Rene* Cohen in 'Lady Clare,' and an extract from 'iEneid,' by Miss Maud Hordern, completed the English numbers. Miss M. Jones, 'Bluette ;' Miss E. Lingen, 'Mazurka des . Traineaux;' 'Mondscheinfahrt,' Miss Gladys Teece; 'Spinnlied,' Miss May Lingen ; 'Andante et rondo capriccioso,' Miss E. Harrison ; 'Rondo brillanre,' Misses Q. Mort and M. Pilcher, were the pianoforte selections ; and Miss E. Whiting was the solo violinist in a selection from 'La Sonnambula.' The school forces combined in the Narcissus Dance and Neotsfield Waltz, and in singing a Christmas carol. Mrs. Lingen drew attention to the facts that three pupils had passed the Junior examination, and that the Fairfax prize and medals for French and German had been won at the recent University examinations. The music was good, and the drawings and paintings were in some instances very creditable. Misses Lingen, Harrison, and G. Teece were the most successful musically. The parents of most of the pupils and other friends were present. In the evening Miss Wallis gave a dance.

Dear Andrew,

Thank you for your recent enquiry about the attendance of the four Whiting sisters at Ascham during the 1890s and early 1900s.

Firstly, I can confirm that all four sisters attended the school. Secondly, thank you for your information about their dates of birth and their relationship with Linda and Eileen Teece, about which we had no record.

Unfortunately, our records during the time of the first Principal, Miss Marie Wallis, are almost non-existent. Consequently, we have also had to rely on the digitised newspapers for any information about students who attended the school before 1902 and we also had the same information about the violin performance of E Whiting in 1894. I'm sorry that I am not able to confirm whether it was Enid or Elaine.

The only other information we hold about any of the girls is as follows:

Enid (Mrs E N Waters) –two original telegrams sent by Enid in both 1894 and 1895 to classmate Ethel Lane Latham who won the Fairfax Junior and Senior Prizes for being the top girl in the State in the final school exams. There is also a reference to her marriage in the March issue of the school magazine in 1905

Elaine (Mrs R A Phipps-Waugh) – two similar telegrams as mentioned above. Her marriage to Dr Phipps-Waugh is referenced in the September issue of the school magazine, 1905

Sylvia (Dossie) – engagement mentioned in June issue of school magazine, 1904

Vera – potentially appears in two group photographs from 1901 and approximately 1904 held in archives (would need to check); debut at Union Club Ball mentioned in school magazine, May issue, 1906.

I hope this provides you with some helpful information. If you would like copies of the photographs and telegrams, please let me know.

Kind regards,

Ascham School

ST. JAMES' ANNUAL TEA.

So large was the attendance at the annual tea and entertainment of St. James' parish, held at Queen's-Hall last night, that some difficulty was experienced in finding accommodation for all those present. The Rev. S. Marston apologised for the absence of the rector, the Rev. Carr Smith, through illness, and briefly outlined a scheme for the re-building of the Parish-hall, He said that £1000 would be required for that purpose, and trusted that the congregation, recognising the worthiness of the object, would be able to raise that amount. (Applause.) A varied programme was contributed to by Miss Stirling, Messrs. Naughton und Kendal, and the boys of St. James' choir, accompanied by the organist, Mr. A. Mason. The well-known farce, "Whitebait at Greenwich," concluded the entertainment, the characters being taken by Miss Carr Smith, Miss Elaine Whiting, and Messrs. Cecil Edwards, Russell French, and Areli. Edwards.

Mme. :H. -Moreau gave a very enjoyable afternoon 'at home" at Silberstein, Darling Point/ - on July 31. The Bavarian Band played a bright selection of music on the lawn; Miss Ruby Marks and Miss Blain, contributed songs in the drawings room; while in the dining-room tea, coffee, and sandwiches, cakes, and all kinds of delicious' sweets were provided. The balcony was curtained in with awnings, and here a special feature was provided in the shape of a novel and interesting competition. Six familiar quotations from Shakespeare were clearly printed on six cards, attached to a black background, competitors being required to complete each quotation, and give the title of the play from which it was taken; while a companion pendant a little further on showed Six most ingenious little sketches, representing the titles of six well-known books. Much interest was shown by the guests in this new form of entertainment, and when notes were compared 'at the end of the afternoon it was found that Miss Elaine Whiting had provided the greatest number of correct answers, while Miss Haidee De Lissa came next. Miss Whiting's prize was an exquisitely painted blue satin sachet, and Miss De Lissa's a very dainty, filagree silver card-case.

The success which attended the initial performance of "As You- Like It" in the picturesque grounds of Mona, Darling Point, on Thursday evening, must be most gratifying to those who worked so untiringly to that end, and that most deserving charity, the Sick Children's Hospital, will benefit considerably by their exertions. Mrs. Ernest Coombe made a charming Rosalind, the 16th century style of dressing in the first scone suiting her admirably. Her gown was of soft, clinging cream material, with a touch of rose pink. Miss Lilian Booth contrasted bine with her cream gown, and looked very dainty. As it was the first open-air performance given, there was considerable diversity in the opinion as to costumes among the audience, and those who favored walking toilettes, and wore their hats, certainly looked the most comfortable, for the weather was decidedly cold and unsettled. Among those present were Rear-Admiral Sir Lewis Beaumont, Miss Rawson, and several members of his staff, Mr. Justice M. H. and Mrs. Stephen, Miss Thea Stephen, Miss Huthwait, Miss Walker, Miss Primrose, Airs. Consett and the Misses Stephen, Miss Elaine Whiting, Miss Aloln, Mrs. Moore, Miss Tait, Mrs. Gilchrist, Miss Paige, Mrs. Sarren, Miss Alary Jones, Mr. Al. Stephen.

KINDERGARTEN CELEBRATION.

The Christmas celebration of the Free Kindergartens was held at the Masonic-hall, Castlereagh-street, on Thursday, and proved one of the most attractive and pleasing entertainments hold during the "breaking-up" season. There was a large gathering of ladies Interested in the work, as well as a good attendance of the general public. Among others present were Mrs. John Sec, Major and Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. E. Kater, Mr. and Mrs. Featherstonhaugh, Mr. S. Cook, and Mesdames Gibbs, Rankin, Whiting, and Bennett. The children who took part numbered about 150, and were drawn from the ranks of the Newtown, Woolloomooloo, and Miller's Point schools. They were under the direction of Mrs. J. G. Dane, who is at the head of Kindergarten work in this State, and went through many pretty and graceful marching and rhythmical movements, to the accompaniment of music supplied by Miss Cook (piano), and Mrs. Elaine Whiting and Miss A. Allen (violins). The games were also set to music and were designed to illustrate some simple phase of home life which would appeal to the children and help them to realise their own special place in the family. For instance, a game of washing was played, which emphasised the inter-dependence both of man and of nature. Man is dependent upon nature for water, for wind, and for sunshine to carry out his work, while the loving co-operation of father, mother, and children is necessary for the comfort and success of the home. Some of the children represented tubs, in which mother and child washed the clothes which the father brought in his cart; others represented clothes-lines and props. The wind and the sunbeam dried the clothes, which were then gathered and placed in baskets for the father to carry back to their owners. Several other games on similar lines were carried out, and won the admiration of those present for the work accomplished by the teachers. At the conclusion of the entertainment the children were rewarded with gifts from a Christmas tree.

Dr, Barnardo's Homes,

The Bowral Auxiliary of these admirable Institutions held a most successful annual meeting on the last evening of February in St. Jude's School Hall, F. B. Kyngdon, Esq., J.O.S., presided, and was supported by the Rev. G. Gordon, of the local Presbyterian Church ; the absence of the other ministers being due to unavoidable causes.

The hall was crowded with friends and sympathisers, the large audience including many Sydney visitors, it had been very prettily decorated by willing hands, greenery and bay flags covered the walls. while a large framed picture of Mr. Mayors Mid his party of musical boys from the Stepney Home recalled the visit which had given pleasure to many Bowral contributors in the past, and showed what could be done in rescue of child life from the slums of London.

A musical programme of special excellence had been arranged by Miss Barb Morgan, the local Treasurer; this gave great pleasure and included part singing by St. Jude's choir boys, accompanied by Mr. Cecil Compton ; violin solos by the Misses Elaine Whiting and May Crichton, and vocal duets and solos by Mrs. Hill and the Misses Brown, Evans, Phillips and Dorothy Stephen.

OPENED BY THE GOVERNOR

Through the kindness of His Excellency the State Governor and Lady Rawson, the changing grounds surrounding 'State Government House were lent for the purpose of holding a fair in aid of the District Nursing Association, which was declared open yesterday by Sir H. Rawson, in the presence of a vast concourse of people. The day was beautifully bright, and a true touch of summer was introduced by the stallholders in their dainty muslin gowns and flowered hats, as they flitted to and fro, offering tempting goods for sale. Business was brisk throughout the day, so that the charity should benefit largely, thanks to the effort of the energetic committee, who have worked so hard to insure success. Miss Eadith Walker. . Miss Dorothy Dibbs .and JSSse Napper - were hon. secretaries for a doll dressing competition arranged by Mrs. Fanshawe, In connection with the North Sydney Stall. Judges: Mrs, Fanehawe, Mrs. Finn, Mrs. Burdekin. CHRISTMAS CHEER. AT THE HOSPITALS.

At the city and suburban hospitals every-» filing that tender hearts could suggest and skilful hands perform to vary the everyday life of the unfortunate inmates, and enable them to participate, so far as circumstances would allow, in the festivities of Christmas Day, was gladly done. The customary strictness of the visiting regulations was relaxed, and at each of the institutions there was a stream of visitors, many of whom went laden with welcome gifts of magazines, books, and seasonable delicacies. Everywhere the patients were loud in their expressions of appreciation of the kindness and thoughtfulness that had been displayed in their behalf.

At Moorcliff, Miller's Point, where the ophthalmic branch of the Sydney Hospital is situated, Miss Elaine Whiting and Miss Grace Allen, in accordance with their annual custom, arranged a Christmas tree and concert for Christmas Eve, and every one of the 75 patients shared in the distribution of the presents

FRESH AIR LEAGUE BALL

The funds of that, most deserving charity, the Fresh Air League will be considerably augmented by the very successful ball which was held last night in the Town-hall. Since the inception of this league in 1891, 2708 persons have enjoyed four weeks' country air through this institution, and during the past season, 291 persons have received the benefit of the league. One of the chief sources of income is the annual ball so the ladies' committee, with Miss Margaret Harris as hon. secretary, and Mrs. A. A. Cohen and Mrs. R. Terry as hon. treasurers, must be congratulated on the success which crowned their efforts. The ballroom was most artistically decorated with palms, foliage, evergreens, and flags. The dais for the vice-regal party was placed under the southern gallery. On the organ platform, De Groen's orchestra played an excellent programme. Supper was served in the 'basement, the tables being decorated with choice flowers by Mrs. Whiting and a host of willing helpers. The table prepared for the vice-regal party was especially admired. In the centre was a bouquet of scarlet and white flowers, and trails of autumn leaves. Mrs. Addison and Miss Elaine Whiting were responsible for its decoration. Dancing commenced about 9 o'clock, and continued till after midnight, and it was estimated that the attendance numbered 100, the galleries being also well filled.Miss Elaine Whiting wore white glace silk, with a beautiful lace overdress.

A pretty wedding, and one which aroused much interest in Randwick, took place in St. Jude's Church, on February 22, between Captain Edward Needham Waters, second son of Mr. E. Waters, of "Claremont," Hawthorn, Victoria, and Miss Enid Whiting, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Whiting, of "Astolat," Randwick. The service, which was fully choral, was performed by the Rev. W. Hough, assisted by the Rev. W. Flower, while Miss Gertrude Palmer presided at the organ, and played the "Wedding March," from "Lohengrin." The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dainty but simple gown of pure white chiffon over silk, the skirt a mass of tiny frills, and the bodice trimmed with point-de-gaze lace. A coronet of orange blossoms, a long tulle veil, a diamond and turquoise pendant, a diamond bracelet, and a bouquet of white flowers, completed her charming toilette. Her bridesmaids, the Misses Elaine, Sylvia and Vera Whiting, Miss Waters (the bridegroom's stator), and Miss Gladys Teece, wore smart frocks of cream glace silk and ivory picture hats, and carried bouquets of deep red roses, while their brooches, in the form of wreaths of forget-me-nots in turquoise and pearls, were the gifts of the bridegroom. Mr. G. J. Crispin acted as best man, and Dr. R. Phipps Waugh, Messrs. K. Whiting and Leslie Moore, were the groomsmen. After the ceremony, the guests adjourned to "Astolat," where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. Whiting, the latter wearing a beautiful gown of golden brown silk and chiffon, and a toque to match, trimmed with shaded chrysanthemums, a bouquet of the same flowers finishing a harmonious ensemble. After the newly married pair had received the congratulations of their friends, and the presents, which were very numerous and admirably chosen, had been viewed, the company assembled in a large marquee on the lawn, where the wedding breakfast was served, and the usual toasts were honoured. Later in the afternoon the happy pair left for Pennant Hills, whence they proceed to Tasmania, Mrs. Waters wearing a well-made gown of cream fishbone cloth, trimmed with pale blue kid, and a pale blue hat to correspond.

Among the invited guests, most of whom were present, were Sir Edmund, Lady, and Miss Barton, Sir W., Lady, and Miss M'Millan, Sir John and the Misses See, the Hon. A. W., Mrs., and Miss Meeks, Mr. E. and Miss Waters (Melbourne), Mr. and Mrs. P. Waters, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Waters (Melbourne), the Hon. At St. Jude's Church, Randwick, on Wednesday, February 22, the marriage of Miss Enid Whiting, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Whiting, of Astolat, Randwick, with Mr. Edward Waters, second son of Mr. E. Waters, of Claremont, Hawthorn, Victoria, was solemnised by the Rev. William Hough, in the presence of a large number of guests and spectators. The church was prettily deco-rated for the occasion, and the service was full choral, Miss Gertrude Palmer presiding at the organ. The bride's dress was of white chiffon over glace silk, trimmed with point de gaze lace, and a white tulle veil was arranged over her bridal wreath. Her ornaments were a diamond bracelet (the gift of the bridegroom) and a diamond and turquoise pendant (the gift of the bridegroom's father), and she carried a bouquet of white roses and heather. Five bridesmaids were in attendance-the Misses Elaine, Sylvia, and Vera Whiting (sisters), Miss Waters (sister of the bridegroom), and Miss Teece. They wore Ivory-white glace silk dresses, and white hats, and carried bouquets of red roses, which, with their pearl and turquoise, brooches, were gifts from the bridegroom. Mr. G. Jervis Crespin was best man, and Mr. W. Howe, Dr. R. Phipps Waugh, Mr. W. Moore, and Mr. Keith Whiting the grooms-men. A largely attended reception was subsequently held at Astolat by Mr. and Mrs. Whiting, and the wedding breakfast was served in a marquee erected on the lawn. Mr. and Mrs. E. Waters left later for their honeymoon. The bride's travelling dress was of cream cloth, trimmed with pale blue leather, and a blue picture hat

A largely-attended drawing-room meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. L. W. Lev>, Cahors, Macleay-street, Potts Point, on Thursday afternoon, August 24, in connection with the opening of a "creche" in Woolloomooloo. About 50 ladies were present, the gathering being a most representative one. Mrs. Davenport presided, and gave an outline of what the creche committee hoped to accomplish. Sir Sydney Jones spoke in favour of the creche, and gave some of his experiences. Miss Newton and Miss Arnold gave short addresses on the benefits which have resulted from the work of the "day nurseries" in America. Mrs. Dane made an interesting explanation of what the work was, and Miss Jenkins also spoke. A committee was formed, with Mrs. Davenport as president, other members being Mrs. Whiting, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. W. Fairfax, Mrs. M'Donald Dill, Mrs. Maitland, Miss Linda Teece, and Miss Sylvia Whiting. Miss Cohen is the hon. treasurer, and Mrs. Dane the hon. secretary.

A Fashionable Wedding

Dr. R. P. Waugh's Marriage The Bells of St. Jude's

The wedding bells rang merrily out at St. Jude's, Randwick, on Wednesday afternoon last, for the marriage of Dr. R. Phipps Waugh (one of the most popular of Parramatta's younger sons) and Miss Elaine Whiting, daughter of Mr. W. G. Whiting, of 'Astolat,' Randwick. The day was a lovely one for the event --a bright, sunny, spring afternoon; and many hundreds of the popular young doctor's Parramatta friends wished him well in their secret aspirations, for few marriages of late years have awakened as much kindly interest in local circles. The bride (who was given away by her father) wore a lovely gown of white liberty satin, with Brussels lace, made with yoke and berth of Brussels lace, wreath of heather and orange blossom; a large tulle veil falling to the hem of the skirt. The bridegroom's gift was a gold bangle, studded with turquoises. The bride was attended by five bridesmaids — Miss Dossie Whiting, chief bridesmaid, and Miss Vera, Whiting (sisters of the bride); Miss Cassie Waugh (sister of the bridegroom) ; Miss Teece (cousin of the bride), and Miss Frieda Lamb. They wore dresses of pale blue soft silk over blue glace, with transparent yokes of net and berth of Mechlin lace ; hats of pale blue crinoline straw, trimmed with different shades of violets. The gifts of the bridegroom to the bridesmaids were gold brooches, with pearls, and violet posies tied with streamers of blue ribbon velvet. The The groomsmen were Dr. Herbert Kendall, best man; Dr. Fred. Watson; Mr. Keith Whiting, Mr. Leslie Moore and Mr. Cedric Whiting. The marriage ceremony was celebrated at St. Jude's Church, Randwick, Archdeacon Abbott, of Tamworth, a friend of the bride and bridegroom, officiating. The church had been tastefully decorated for the event with palms and ferns ; and the service was fully choral, the hymns rendered being 'The voice that breathed o'er Eden' and 'Oh, perfect love.' Miss Hough presided at the organ. The reception was held at 'Astolat,' where the breakfast was served in a spacious marquee on the lawn. The one toast proposed was that of 'The Bride and Bridegroom' by Archdeacon Abbott. The bridegroom responded. The centre table, where the bridal party sat, and on which was placed the wedding cake, was decorated with jonquils and snowdrops, and a large floral bell was suspended over the wedding cake. The other tables were decorated with violets. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Waugh left by the 5.27 train for Medlow, and on Saturday leave by the Oruba for a trip to Melbourne. They will stay in the Victorian capital for a fortnight. The bride's travelling dress was of pale grey tweed with pale blue cloth facings and white embroidered vest; cream lace hat with blue rosettes and pink roses. Mrs. Whiting (mother of the bride) wore biscuit lace, dotted with brown velvet over glace skirt, and cream toque with lilac and dark red roses, and carried a bouquet of purple hyacinths. Mrs. Waugh — who was accompanied by Dr. I. Waugh — was in black brocaded satin with white satin and jet trimmings and black sequin bonnet with pink rose buds. Miss Joan Waugh's dress was cream lustre with guipure and vest with folds of blue merveilleux and black feather hat ; Miss Isabel Waugh's, a cream, with satin yoke and lace; pale blue straw hat, with, violets.

Mrs. Edward Waters (Melbourne), sister of the bride, wore black glace silk with cream hat and red roses, and carried a lovely bouquet of violets; Mrs. Bennett (aunt of the bride) wore white glace, veiled with black lace, cream toque with deep pink roses; Mrs. Palmer (aunt of the bride) wore black silk dress, and bonnet touched with lilac; Miss Cairnes, grey tweed dress, faced with, white cloth and braid trimmings, pale blue hat with roses and forgot-me-nots ; Mrs. Reginald Bow-man, navy blue check silk and black hat; Mrs. Richards (of Newlands), black merveilleux dress with guipure vest and pale blue trimming; Mrs. Herbert McCulloch, fawn cloth with black trimming and black toque; Mrs. S. Walford, mauve crepe de chine and floral toque ; Mrs. Herbert Lloyd, pale pink floral muslin dress, with mauve chiffon hat with pink roses; Miss Dora Cairnes, pale grey dress with hat of moss green straw and flowers; Miss Carter, pale blue silk dress with black tulle hat; Miss Rita Terry, cream spotted net dress and cream felt hat with feathers ; Mrs. Galbraith, pale blue soft silk with blue straw hat and red roses; Mrs. Brunton, brown crepe de chine and toque of same shade ; Miss Mona Richards, brown crepe de chine; Miss Hall, cream hopsack; Miss Ewan, pink spotted silk muslin, with boa of green and white rainbow chiffon and black hat; Mrs. Teece, dove colored voile with guipure bodice; Mrs. Williamson, black figured silk with white tulle toque veiled in black lace.

The Lancer Ball.

The Parramatta Lancer Ball, on Friday, June 11th, at the Parramatta Town Hall, was a pronounced success, notwithstanding that the weather thereabouts gave threatenings of much mild dampness. Friday itself was a fairly fine day ; and the rain held up till things in connection with the ball were really well on the way. The general arrangements of the ball were under the control of a committee, the treasurer of which was Q.M.S. O'Connor and the active and keen-witted secretaries were Lieutenant A. J. Mills and S.S.M. Smith. These soldiers, and others, worked hard on Thursday evening, to make things ready tor the ladies who had charge of the decorations in the dancing hall — Mrs. Peak and Miss Ferguson. Mrs. T. D. Little and Matron Rutter (of the P.D. Hospital) had undertaken to; arrange the decorations in the supper-room;- In each instance the most favorable results had been, secured. - In the' main hall the lattice-work fronting the proscenium was decked with flowers, whilst the motto of the regiment, 'Tones et fidelis,' shone out opposite, from the front of the gallery, and' a wealth of palms and ferns and bunting completed a most striking and picturesque 'tout ensemble.' Upstairs in the council chambers, grotty lamp-shades; Lancers' favors, and winter blooms, had been utilised with much success about the supper tables. The music, which was excellent in quality, was rendered by a capable string band under Sgt. Tavior. Mrs. Richardson, caterer, had charge of the detail work in the supper room. THE DRESSES. The function being the first big, affair in Parramatta since the opening of the dancing season, as was. to be expected, some handsome gowns wore to be seen. ' Matron Rutter wore a lovely ivory, silk gown, effectively relieved with passementerie and, medallions; Mrs. C. F. Cox, a black silk, trimmed with black applique ;, Mrs. R. Phipps Waugh, a rich cream crepe de chine, the bottom of the skirt trimmed with a Grecian key pattern of Brussels net and Pfile. blue;

WATSON-ARMSTRONG.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at St. John's Church, Darlinghurst, recently between Mr. Leopold T. Watson, seventh son of the late Mr. Sydney Grandison Watson, of Walwa and Tintaldra, Upper Murray, N.S.W., and Miss Ina Beatrice Harvey Armstrong, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Harvey Armstrong, of "Netherton," Double Bay. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and palms, and the service was performed by the Rev.

E. C. Beck. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. O. Morrice Williams, of Melbourne, wore a graceful gown of ivory chiffon velvet, trimmed with lace and silver cord, a lace veil, and a wreath of haw-thorn blossom. She also wore an emerald and diamond ring, the gift of the bridegroom; a tourmaline necklace, presented by Professor Watson; and carried a bouquet of cream double daffodils. Her bridesmaids were her youngest sister, Miss Millicent Armstrong, and the bridegroom's niece, Miss Constance John-son. They wore becoming frocks of white embroidered muslin, with heliotrope sashes and bretelles, and hats of embroidered muslin over heliotrope silk. Their amethyst and pearl necklaces were the gifts of the bridegroom. Professor Watson, of the Adelaide University, acted as his brother's best man; and Mr. Ross-Johnson as groomsman. After the ceremony the guests were entertained by Mrs. Harvey Armstrong, assisted by her daughters, at "Netherton," the wedding tea being served in a marquee on the lawn. A quantity of beautiful presents were displayed

In the dining-room. The invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. Featherstonehaugh, Miss Featherstonehaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Whiting, Miss Whiting, Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Houghton Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Morrice Williams, Miss Festag, Miss McDonald, Mrs. Bettington, Mr. and the Misses Mack, Mrs. E. M. Bennett, and others. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Watson left for Mittagong, the bride wearing a dark blue cloth coat and skirt, a dark blue hat trimmed with cherries, and handsome stone marten furs, the gift of her father.

THE DRESSES.

WHAT WAS WORN.

The final day of the spring carnival was probably the most enjoyable of the four days. The weather was delightful, the crowd not so large, and in four out of the six racing events the favourite was first past the post. With regard to the frocking, it was remarkable on mentally reviewing the fashions and colours in evidence on each day that to sum up the whole effect judgment is in favour of neutral and pastel tints. The one-piece costume is not nearly so much favoured as the coat and skirt, save in the lingerie robes. The hats, were in many instances as large as the parasols. High collars have had their day. The draped skirt is feeling its way, and veils, gloves, shoes, and hose are en suite with either the chapeaux or gowns worn. Saturday's frocking was notable for the numerous tints, ranging from frielle and cafe au lait to dull string colouring, and from cream and clay tones to French khaki and pale apricot. Of course, there were a dozen or so gowns of richer and brighter colouring that stood out conspicuously, among them being a crepe de chine in the new brilliant tint which depicts the vivid pink of the azalea. To tone the brightness down a drapery of black ninon partly veiled the crepe de chine, and a large black hat was worn. In striking contrast was a picture-like figure of the early Victorian type. The frock was of rather stiff white silk that stood out with a modified crinoline effect. On the head was a tiny coal scuttle-shaped bonnet with tiny bunches of flowers, and the wearer, who was under 5ft In height, is a bride of a few days. Some of the smartest frocks! were the all black ninon robes relieved with cut jet cabachons and applique, one or two of the handsomest showing an interlining of fine gold net. Some of the most beautiful hats yet seen were worn on Saturday.

In the vice-regal box were noticed his Excellency the Governor of Victoria and Lady Gibson-Carmichael, his Excellency the Governor of Tasmania (General Sir Harry Barron), Lord Richard Nevill, Captain the Hon. and Mrs. James Boyle, Captain and Mrs. Dorrien Smith, Miss Stewart Monteith. Captain Gilliat, and Mr. W. Callan. Lady Gibson-Carmichael wore a coat and skirt of cream summer cloth inlet with Cluny lace, black hat with white ostrich feathers, one side being turned up and capped with a silver cockade. The Hon. Mrs. James Boyle was in a white lingerie robe, white tagel hat with pink roses and white ostrich feathers;

Mrs. Dorrien Smith, Wedgwood-blue ninon, with ivory net, lace trimmings, white hat almost covered with, foliage and tiny blue flowers; Miss Stewart Monteith, pale grey voile, white hat with tiny marguerites and tinted tulle; Lady Madden, black satin charmeuse relieved with white and; black embroidered applique, prunelle hat with tiny clusters of pink and mauve flowers; Mrs. Harry Osborne, mole-coloured shantung coat, and skirt, white hat with amethyst roses and velvet; Miss Ruby Madden, the palest blue muslin inset with Mechlin lace, white hat with crepe de chine swathing; Mrs. Hope Osborne, French khaki tussore silk, hat with pink roses and cherry-coloured velvet; Mrs. Herbert Marks, white Indian lawn appliqued with pale pink, white hat with Egyptian brown velvet: Mrs. Neil Crowley, pearl white crepe de chine, long coat effect of Ivory net and lace over black net, large black picture hat; Miss Nona Hay, French grey crepe de chine, Peter Pan collar of Paris lace, grey straw hat with feathers and a slipper bow of black velvet; Mrs. Charlie Little, white muslin and Cluny lace frock, large black picture hat; Miss Dorothy Little, white lingerie robe made en princess, pale mauve hat with wistaria blooms; Mrs. G. Fuller pale iris mauve ninon de sole inset with lace threaded with black velvet ribbon, tuscan hat massed with pink and mauve flowers; Mrs. Connell, black satin and net gown, 'hat in prunelle tints; Miss Connell, white; muslin and lace frock, hat with Parisian yellow roses-, Mrs. Phipps Waugh, white embroidered linen, black hat with Copenhagen-blue ostrich feathers. Her sister, Mrs. Edward Waters, wore cafe au lait satin foulard with self-coloured lace, and black pipings, burnt straw hat with black ribbon and ospreys;

AT THE CUP.

Several Parramatta ladies are over for the Cup at Melbourne, and graced the lawn on Derby Day. Miss Gipsy Burns, of Gowan Brae, wore a lovely dross of royal blue shantung, with a big black lint. Her sister, Mrs. Ernest Brooks, wore a most artistic creation of blue and white spotted foulard, with a deep corselet belt of blue satin, large black lint, trimmed with bright blue flowers and roses. Mrs. Phipps Waugh, a beautiful dress of black ensoupe do chine, with a lace giimpe, and a large hat wreathed with gentian blue velvet flowers. For sister, Mrs. W. Waters, was also in black crepe de chine, her burnt straw hat being clustered with scarlet popping and blue cornflowers.

THE OAKS DAY.

The third day's racing was marred by a heavy. downpour of rain, the thunder and lightning during the luncheon hour being loud and vivid. The rain afterwards descended in a deluge, and did its very best to spoil many of the handsome costumes which were to be seen. Their Excellencies the Governor General and the Countess of Dudley were not present, neither were the State Governor and Lady Gibson-Carmichael, but a large party occupied the vice-regal boxes, including his Excellency the Governor of South Australia and the Misses Bosanquet, Vice-Admiral Sir Richard Poore, the Hon. Cyril and Mrs. Ward, Miss McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Knox, Flag-Lieut. Fisher, Lieut. and Mrs. Snagge, Sir Alexander Napier, Lord Richard Nevill, Mr. Victor Hood, Captain Fletcher, Mr. Walter Callan, Mr. S. Pat Osborne, the Misses Lesley and Beatrice Madden, and Miss Viola Bingham.
.....Mrs. Phipps Waugh, natter blue Shantung coat and skirt and a black Tagal straw hat with white roses and ospreys. Her sister, Mrs. E. Waters, dark sapphire-blue crepe de chine and a blue straw hat with field flowers.

DRESSES AND ATTENDANCE.

The beautiful weather of Saturday gave every opportunity for the display of smart clothes; hence it was that the lawn looked much brighter and gayer than either on Monday or Wednesday, and certainly no whit behind the opening day. Her Excellency the Countess of Dudley, accompanied by Adeline Duchess of Bedford and Captain and Mrs. Buchanan, and attended by Sir Alexander Napier and Mr. Waller Callan, was present in the Governor-General's box. She wore a lovely gown of pale mauve satin Oriental, mo coat Having ucep rovers ot wnue satin. Others present were: — Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, Mrs. Waters (.Melbourne),

SYDNEY DAY-NURSERY ASSOCIATION.

On Thursday afternoon the annual meeting of the Sydney Day Nursery Association was held at the Women's Patriotic Club, Moore-street, Lady Cullen presiding. There was a good attendance, and much interest was shown In the proceedings. Lady Cullen said that the association was formed in August, 1905, to enable mothers to go out to work, and to teach them, not by theory, but practice, how a young child should be taken care of. The reduction in the infantile mortality in a country where population is so much needed association. She said that she had visited both the depots, and was so much impressed with the work done there that she expressed the hope that the association would be able to start further depots by the time the summer arrived, as that to the time they were so needed. Miss Goldschmidt, in the absence of Mrs. Zlotkowski, read the annual report, and also the balance-sheet. Mrs. Anderson, in moving the adoption of the report and balance-sheet, said that it was cheering to see so many people giving their time to save the babies. The country was spending thousands of pounds bringing out immigrants from Great Britain, but it did not pay sufficient attention to the care of the best immigrant—the baby. The resolution was seconded by the Rev. Mr. Yates, and was carried. A vote of thanks to the Government for a grant of £250 was carried by acclamation. The office-bearers were elected: — President, Mrs. F. A. Davenport; vice-presidents, Mrs. Backhouse, Mrs. Blackburn, Mrs. H. Dixon and Miss Alison; hon. secretary, Mrs. Gilbert-Lodge; hon. treasurer, Miss Enid Marks; hon. organiser of circles, Miss F. E. Stephen; executive committee, Mrs. R. The Hospital Ball

A Brilliant Function.

The annual ball, which was held in the 'Parramatta Town Hall, on Wednesday, 7 evening, in aid of the Parramatta District Hospital, was an unqualified success both socially and financially; There were about 800 dancers present, and one and all seemed to have an enjoyable time. The arrangements were in the hands of a capable committee, presided over by Mr. H. B. Cowper, the president of the Hospital, and the sub-committees were as follow: Decoration committee, Alderman J. L. Smith, Dr. Hall, Messrs. G. T. Erby, J. V. Jarkcr, W. Fairclough, J. P. ourson, A. Christie, H. McGill, T. Brien, W. A. Jones 'JL'. O. Stenmark, and J. Siely. Social committee, Mr. W. J. Airey (convenor), dipt. Guyot, Vis. Kearney, Waugh, Bowman, J. B. Brown, Messrs. G. H. Mobbs, W. Fin? Jiiyson; L. W. Pye, A. P. Dolan, J. Wilson, W. O'Brien, C. E. Byrnes, S. Davios. T. Burstall, W. Rocs, H. W. Meggitt, and A. Henderson. Supper-room committee: Mr. J. B. Rawlinson, Col. Cox, Dr. Kearney, Messrs. P. H. Robilliard, J. Graham, A. J. O. Marsden, W. O'Brien, T. R. Barber, W. Flemming, C. Summons, and W. W. Bod'fmliam. M's.C., Drs. Hall, Kearney and Whiting, Col. Cox, Messrs. J. L. B. Cowper, S. Davios, 'W. J.' Airey, J. Wilson, and J. H. Bobilliard. While all worked so well it would be invidious to particularise, suffice it to say, their efforts were eminently successful and highly appreciated. The ladies, under the presidency of Mrs. J. A. go, the Mayoress, and the guidance of Mrs. Mil'lor and Miss M. Davis as secretaries, did (splendid work in the supper room, and with the assistance of Mrs. Richardson and her staff, ministered well to the creature comforts. The following ladies, in addition to those already mentioned, Tendered valuable service: Mosdamos 'Holt, Burnell, Maedonnld, Edwin Brown, A. E. Mnrsdcn, Bimstnll, and Misses Alicia Brown, Fairclough, Da Silva Waugh, Belle Wr.ugh, J. Nenle, E. Neale, Phillips, and D. Little. The table decorations were in the able and artistic hands of Mr. .I. Eury, and it is safe to say that they never looked better. Daffodils and pencil blossoms made a pretty setting indeed. The music, under the leadership of Mr. Bert Taylor, pleased everybody, as also did the floor, after it had undergone a preparation at the hands of Mr. Percy Rawlinson. The public made a liberal response in the way of providing supper, and nothing was lacking. In fact, Mrs. Miller was able, next morning, to fill the basket of a number of poor people who make it a rule to call on her from year to year. There were quite a number of new faces this year, and this fact was gratifying to the committee. The committee was also gratified to be assured by their new patrons : that they appreciated the efforts of the Indies. The ballroom was beautifully decorated with palms and greenery, and flags interspersed with greenery lending a very gay and bright look. A profusion of stocks, arranged in bowls, decorated each window space. The stage was arranged with tail pot-plants and palms. The support tables were exquisitely decorated by Mr. Irlury, with daffodils and snow-drops, arranged in tall vases; and the mantel-piece in the supper room was banked with daffodils and white blossom.

Amongst those present, were: Mrs. Phipps Waugh, cinnamon ninon over satin, gold bugle fringe, and gold embroidered corsage;

£1370 COMPENSATION TO BE PAID.

The case in which Keith Moore Whiting and Richard Andrew Phipps Waugh, trustees of the estate of the late Thomas Moore. sued the ' municipal Council of Sydney, claiming that compensation in respect of land resumed by the council in Bayswater-road, Darlinghurst, was concluded before Mr. Justice Pring and a Jury in the No. 3 Jury Court this afternoon. The City Council's valuation of the property was £1150, which they pleaded was equal to or exceeded the amount of compensation to which the plaintiffs were entitled in respect of the premises. The Jury returned a verdict for the plaintiffs for £1370.

A MEDICAL EVENING PARTY.

A BRILLIANT FUNCTION.

The evening party, or, as it; was described by one of the members, "the simple party," given, in the Town-hall last night by the president and council of the New South Wales branch of the British Medical Association, to the members, —, of the Australasian Medical Congress and other friends, was a brilliant function. Apart from the fact that the spectacular display was an inviting one, the representative nature of the gathering, including as it did the foremost men in scientific matters in Australia, gave it a unique distinction. The decorations of the main hall were carried out with artistic yet simple taste. Necessarily there was a big display of bunting, with the grand old British flag everywhere, predominant (occasionally draping the Royal Arms); the Commonwealth's ensign, and here and there splashings of hunting effectively entwined about the pillars and gallery railings. An abundance of palms and evergreens gave the little necessary relief to the brighter colors, the general effect being quaintly and quietly picturesque. The large clusters of electric lights in the ceiling of the huge building were shaded with pink, and the subdued effect was delightful. Mirrors were placed in front of the platform, half hidden by more trailings of foliage, whilst the front of the organ was another mass of beautiful palms and ferns. The short vocal and instrumental programme was most enjoyable. Miss Mabel Batchelor sang "Care Nome" (Verdi), and "Carmen" (Land. Wilson), with spirit and animation, and was applauded generously. Mr. F. Mowbray Carter took the place of Mr. Henry Stacall, who was indisposed, and artistically interpreted "Vision" (Drdla) and "Serenade" (Drdla); and Miss Allco Bryant, played most effectively Offertorio in D (Batiste), on the grand organ. The accompaniments were played by Mr. Harold Whittle. At 9.55 a pretty series of dances were given by Miss Ruby Hooper's pupils. While the dances were in progress colored electric lights, were thrown on the performers. The lowering of the lights in the hall during the progress of the dances contributed largely to the success of the display. Miss Madge Ellor danced a pas seul with much grace and skill. The ladies present included: — Mrs. Phipps Waugh, black ninon over charmeuse;

DRESS WORN AT THE A.J.C. SPRING MEETING.

The perfect weather yesterday attracted a large number of womenfolk to the A.J.C. races at Randwick, when the new Spring fashions were greatly in evidence on the lawn, the majority of the frocks and millinery with being of exceeding beauty and simple elegance. In the Vice-Chair were noticed the Governor-General and Lady Denman, with Sir Walter and Lady Bartellot, Miss Burke, the State Governor and Lady Cullen, Mrs. Hungerford, 1 Capt. and Mrs. Ralph Verney, Major Quilter, Air. Vernon (private secretary), Capt. Stewart Richardson, Capt. Dumaresq, and Flag-lieutenant Seton.

..... Mrs. Phipps Waugh, lime-colored marquisette, embroidered in beads and corded with fringe; hat of lime tulle, with lime feathers.

DRESSES AND ATTENDANCE

MELBOURNE, Sunday. — Derby Day always partakes more or less of the nature of a dress parade. With the Oaks it ranks as an opportunity to see and be seen, and, to their credit be it said, the women on Saturday appeared to.....most important factor, the weather, - was in their favor, and there were many lovely gowns. Nevertheless, the crowd somewhat interfered with an adequate display, and the glories of many a triumph of the dressmaker's art were lost to what must have been under more fortunate circumstances a highly appreciative world. There were chances, however, to note that, as was apparent at the Sydney Spring meeting, Dame Fashion has recovered a certain sense of the fitness of things which she seemed to have totally lost during part of the recent season. There were no freak fashions, the skirts are sensibly wider and the hats are smaller. Not a cart-wheel blocked the view from the lawn on Saturday — a fact that in such a dense crowd made for the comfort, not only of the general public, but of the wearers themselves. One was struck with the apparent rage for feathers. Nearly every hat boasted at least one lancer or Fleureuse plume, and many of the larger hats showed several. It was a healthy sign of the prosperity that reigns. Ostrich feathers are a costly form of ornamentation, particularly the kinds just mentioned. The helmet hat, which is obviously a revival of an early empire mode, shared the honors with the picture hat, this latter varying a little, only as to curve and width. The tunic overskirt has to a great extent lost favor, and is replaced with a flowing; clinging drapery, with something resembling the old-fashioned flounce. The fichu is another welcome and extremely graceful revival. As to colors, they are still blues and greys, and the ultra smart show a marked preference for black and white. Yellows in every tone are fashionable, and in conjunction with black were noted amongst the best dresses on Saturday. The vice-regal . boxes were well filled. The Governor-General was accompanied by Lady Denman, and attended by Lord Richard Nevili, Sir Walter Barttelot, Major Quilter, Captain Stewart Richardson, Mr. Vernon, and Captain Nutting. The Governor of Victoria and Lady Fuller were present, attended by the members of their suite. Admiral King-Hall (who is the guest of their Excellencies) was attended by Flag-Lieutenant Seton. The Governor of South Australia and Lady and Miss Bosanquet were also of the vice-regal party; also Captain and Mrs. Verney, Miss Quirk, Miss Phipps, and Miss Ogilvie.Mrs. Phipps Waugh (Parramatta), gown of lime green crepe de chine over soft satin, and a black hat with ostrich feathers. Mrs. Waters wore biscuit-colored ninon over saun, and a black hat.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S BALL

A BRILLIANT FUNCTION.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The most brilliant of the many delightful I entertainments held during the Cup carnival is the ball given at Federal Government House to-night, when in addition to the well-known people of Melbourne numbers of visitors from the various States are invited to accept Vice-Regal hospitality. Already four large private balls have taken place within a week, at which many Sydney visitors have] been present. They wore Mr. and Mrs. D. Stuart Murray's on Thursday, the Naval and Military Club on Friday, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Whiting's on Monday, and Mrs. Norman Armitage's on Cup night. With such a seeming surfeit of dancing. It is fortunate that the weather still remains delightfully cool, and at Lord and Lady Denman's ball to-night dancing was indulged in with very apparent appreciation, there being no signs of fatigue about the hundreds of dancers who attacked each two step and waltz with unabated vigour.....

Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh [the latter in a fuchsia-tinted "gown of charmeuse veiling ninon.

FINAL DAY.

On Saturday the race carnival was brought to a successful conclusion in delightful weather. Again there was a large party of vice-regal visitors, his Excellency the Governor-General attending with his arm and shoulder strapped beneath his coat. Amongst others were her Excellency Lady Denman, his Excellency the State Governor and Lady Fuller, Sir Walter and Lady Barttelot, Miss Bosanquet, Miss Quirk, Captain and Mrs. Ralph Verney, Miss Phipps, Miss Ogilvie, Lord Richard Nevill, Major Quilter, and Captain Nutting. The Lieutenant-Governor and Lady Madden joined the party at luncheon. A large lunch party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Agar Wynne, at which a number of the Sydney visitors were present. Mrs. Phipps Waugh, green chavmeuse and ninon trimmed with coloured bead embroidery, and a hat to match with coronation-blue and black feathers.

Sydney Mail and New South Wales Advertiser (NSW : 1871 - 1912), Wednesday 15 November 1911, page 46

OAKS DAY.

It is stated with authority that the dressing on Oaks Day was far ahead of anything seen previously during the week, and this was perhaps because it was expected that there would be more space to show off the beautiful toilet. The majority of the gowns were of leading the way. Some were veiled, and others were trimmed with costly beaded and metallic embroideries, the wooden and china ornaments having a great vogue. Black and white dresses were again in favour, and possibly the most admired dress on the lawn of white Liberty satin, with an overdress of black marquisette, pin-spotted in silver, and bordered with black chiffon satin. The veiling was inset on either side with a broad band of lovely Irish crochet, a lace bolero appearing on the bodice, which was finished with a guimpe of white Malines lace, and a folded belt and sash ends of black satin. The accompanying hat was of black tulle, covered on the brim with Irish, crochet/- at one side being an upstanding cluster of black and white roses. Mrs. Phipps Waugh, black crepe de chine with sapphire-blue beaded embroidery, and a black hat with feathers. Her sister (Mrs. E. Waters), coat and skirt of shot silk veiled in dark blue, marquisette, and a gentian blue floral hat.

TATTERSALLS CLUB RACES.

NEW YEAR'S DAY.

The welcome rain which ushered in the new year, cleared off completely at about noon, and the day onward was fine and enjoyable. Consequently a fair number of society folk went out to Randwick for the last day's racing in connection with the - Summer meeting. After the showers the lawns in front of the members' stand were fresh and green, while the garden beds were ablaze with phlox and other bright flowers. There was nothing specially startling in the way of toilettes, and as a rule rather sombre gowns were worn on account of the uncertain appearance of the skies. Mrs. Phipps Waugh, mole-coloured gown of silk crepe; and a Tagal straw hat massed with varie-coloured flowers. Her sister (Mrs. Leslie Moore), pale-pink linen crash, trimmed with rows of buttons and touches of white lace, and a cream hat with feathers and flowers.

DRESSES AT FLEMINGTON YESTERDAY.

(BY WIRE.— FROM OUR SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE.)

Derby Day was -unfortunately wet this year, but despite the fact that the lawn at Flemington was not much used by the women-folk, it did not deter them from wearing beautiful frocks and costly leathered hats, a feature being the elaborate lace coat, which put the finishing touches to their toilettes. Tailormade coats and skirts in silk serge ' and cloth were also much in evidence, and worn with a. small hat with, an osprey or ribbon bow, and were most suitable for. the weather conditions. Weird and grotesque gowns and untimely were not as uuli^cuuic as in iuimci years, the most striking note being 'elegant simplicity.'

..... Mrs. Phipps Waugh (Parramatta) . Venetian point lace over white chiffon satin ; large black Tagal ,hat, with black feathers. Mrs. E. Needham Waters, blue and gold shot-silk, with Irish Guipure lace; saxe blue Tagal hat, with black and white ospreys.

Dear Sheelah, — This year's 'Cup' ds likely to be remembered as one brimming over with disappointment. To the women, because their pretty flimsy frock had either to be reposefully in their folds of tissue paper, or risk destruction 'neath a macintosh; to the men, because an 'absolute certainty' ran nowhere, and Duke Foote's failure once more demonstrated the fascinating uncer tainty of the sport of kings. For over a week the steamer and railway traffic to Melbourne has been submitted to a severe strain, for each year 'The Cup' seems to attract a larger number of visitors. . The Sydney contingent was exceedingly numerous, and in addition a number of Sydney people who have been abroad just timed their return to arrive in Melbourne this week. Included amongst the visitors from this city were noticed: The Lord-

Mayor of Sydney, and the deputy Town Clerk-- (Mr. W. G. Layton), Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Kendall, Mr and Mrs. Anthony Hordern, Brigadier-General Gordon and Miss J. L. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richards, Mrs. Neil M. Donald, Mrs. Bridge, Miss Muriel Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Foy, Miss Macken, Superintendent Rochs, Mr. Leslie Walford. SOCIAL ITEMS

The weather was perfect for the garden party given by their Excellencies, Lord and Lady Denman, at Federal Government House on Friday afternoon (writes our special social representative in Melbourne), when the frocking was 'extremely smart. The Admiral and Lady Kins-Ha'll were present, also Sir John and Lady Fufier. Lady Denman wore a gown of mignonette-green taffeta, with tunic of Venetian point lace, embroidered in Eastern design of lace ; picture hat of mignonette-green with large feathers of the same color. Her jewels were pearls, diamonds, and emeralds.Mrs. Phipps Waugh, white lingerie gown and Irish, guipure lace-;

The weather was all that could be wished for the holidays, so the crowd on Boxing Day at Randwick was the biggest ever seen at this time of the year. Quite a holiday crowd, too, out for enjoyment, and there was a very large sprinkling of country people. Some of the ladies' frocks were charming, especially the white ones, which are so essentially suitable for our climate. One hardly knows which to admire most, the plain and simple type of white gown of linen, or cotton voile, which washes so splendidly, or the dainty ninons, cobwebby muslins,, and supple crepe de chins, trimmed with lace and relieved with a touch of black, or, a knot of; some brightly-tinted ribbon. 'Sometimes a bunch of flowers at the waist gives a note of contrast, and is a dainty fad much followed just at the moment. Some of the posies worn are so natural as to easily pass as the real flowers. The Vice-regal boxes were unoccupied, but the various stands were packed almost unpleasantly. Amongst those noticed were : The Lord

Mayor' (Aid. Clarke), Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. F. M'Master, Mrs. Waters (Melbourne), Mrs. Phipps Waugh,

FINE weather crowned the last day of Tattersall's race meeting with success, and the blue sky and bright sunshine tempted many well-known race patrons to don their prettiest and airiest frocks. Cool looking white muslins, inlet with embroidery, and trimmed largely with lace, were much in evidence, these being crowned with hats of the shady order wreathed with flowers or trimmed . with smart upstanding mounts. Some black and white dresses, too, came in for a good share of admiration.Mrs. Phipps Waugh was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. E. A. Waters, of Melbourne. The latter was dressed in shot blue and gold taffeta, with a short tunic of nattier blue ninon; hat of burnt straw with shaded blue and brown feathers.

NOTHING more trying than; the weather for tile first day of the' Anniversary meeting at Randwick could possibly be Imagined, and it was little wonder that many familiar faces were missing. In spite of tne dry weather, which.miaide the racecourse and the surroundings look dull and brown, the garden beds were ablaze with flowers, the wide border at the foot of the front lawft being a mass of crimson salvia, phlox, dianthus, and .other lovely blossoms. The heat was intense during the afternoon, and even the ' most enthusiastic of the visitors felt that the sport hardly compensated for the discomfort of the climatic conditions. ,,,The band helped to beguile the time. AS a rule white frocks were in evidence, and white embroidered muslins were almost a livery. These, worn with shady hats and white shoes, made the owners look and feel comparatively cool. Mrs. D. I McMaster chose a fine white muBlIn dotted l with embroidered spots, and trimmed with guipure, the accompanying white hat being swathed with a -white -scarf. Mrs. Laurence Brown chose a white lingerie dress and a banana-coloured straw hat' with flowers. Mrs.- Ernest Smart's white muslin was worn with a coatee of embroidery, and a white hat with clusters pt flowers. Miss Enid Bayly came in white muslin inlet with insertion, her tuscan straw hat having old rose ostrich feathers. Mrs. Phipps Waugh's coat and skirt of ivory Ottoman silk was worn with a 'white turban toque. Mrs. Irving Keys was in white nlnon, with a long co&t of black nlnon and a purple hat finished with an upstanding mount.

FURS AT RANDWICK YESTERDAY.

FROCKING AT THE A.J.C. MEETING.

The delightfully cold, crisp weather of yesterday made the Winter meeting of the A.J.C. 'most enjoyable, and the' lawns at Randwick looked particularly attractive after- the recent rains. The attendance was not as large as usual on account of the football match at the Cricket Ground and the polo practice at Kensington, but the women folk who were present were noticeably smart in their elegant frocks and furs. BACHELORS' BALL;

A most enjoyable ball was given by a committee of bachelors at the Parramatta Town Hall on- Thursday. The ballroom presented a very artistic appearance, being panelled and festooned with red muslin, with a floral design suspended from the centre. Large bowls of arum lilies filled the spaces in the windows and the stage was arranged with tall pot plants of palms in the foreground, which I was banked with greenery. The supper tables looked most effective with pink sweet peas and maiden hair fern. ON THE LAWN.

A PICTURESQUE PANORAMA.

A day, almost similar as regards weather conditions to the Saturday experienced In Sydney when Berogoon won the A.J.C. Derby, was ' the remark of a well-known Sydney woman as she chatted on the terrace at Flemington prior to the race for the V.R.C. Derby. So the thousands of Sydneyites who read of BeraRoon's second blue ribbon victory will know that Saturday In Melbourne was one of bright warm sunshine, and a light cool breeze, an ideal day for being out of doors.

Large luncheon parties were given In both the Federal and State dining rooms, and, departing from, the custom in vogue since Lord Denman has entertained at l'Teirilngton, his luncheon table was decorated with groupings' of such lovely pink roses as Dorothy Perkins, Maman Cochet, Papa Gautier, and Cecil Brunner, Mrs. Phipps Waugh, cream silk veiled in pale ficelle net, Inlet with crochet lace, sash In Jade green crepe-de-chine, and a black hat with Jade green "roses. Her sister, Mrs. E. Waters, wore cream damascene crepe

STEEPLECHASE DAY DRESSES. .

SUMMER GOWNS AND A CLOUDLESS SKY.

A 'day of gloriously bright warm sunshine,' tempered by a light cool breeze, made the final day of the Cup Carnival one of great Treasure to. The vast crowd assembled, at the Flemington Racecourse to witness ,the Steeplechase Day programme of events.,

Although many of the interstate visitors took their departure from Melbourne on Friday, yet there was a very largo attendance for the final day of the Cup carnival, among whom were the Governor-General and Lady Denman, whoso interest in . horse-racing Is further exemplified by his Excellency's colours being placed in the principal race on Satur-day.

Among the New South Wales people noticed were Mrs. Phipps Waugh, soft white chiffon satin veiled in silk muslin, embroidered with currant pink silk; smart sash In the same rich pink, and a Tuscan hat with pink plume, encircled with a high quilling of ecru tulle.

Freeman's Journal (Sydney, NSW : 1850 - 1932), Thursday 13 November 1913, page 29

Steeplechase Day was gloriously fine, and a little warmer than the previous Saturday, so fashion's vagaries held full sway, and there were many revelations oi: the new modes. Sydney women held their own sartorially, and were on the whole a very decorative element on Flemington lawns. Lady Denman's gown was in a pale shade of yellow chiffon satin draped with ninon ; the bodice simulated the coatee effect finished with a wide belt of moire ribbon ; fallings of soft ivory lace finished the corsage, whilst a small Medici ruffle of navy blue tulle was set at the back of the neck; hat of black tulle. The party in the viceregal enclosure included also the Lieutenant Governor (Sir John Madden) and Lady Madden, Rear-Admiral Sir George Patey, the Hon. Harold and Mrs. Pearson, Lord Richard Nevill, Captain Sir Walter and Lady Barttelot, Captains Burham, Cresspin, Pollock, Caro, and Flag-Lieutenant Poe. Others present include: Sir George and Lady Reid, Madame Nordica, Mr. and Mrs. John McCormack, Mr. Sam Hordern, Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, Mrs. E. Waters,

Fire at Dr. Waugh's.

Shortly after '2 o'clock on Wednesday morning, the maids who enjoy open-air. sleeping on the rear verandah at Dr. Phipps Waugh's residence, Marsden-st., were wakened by a bright glare and the crackling of burning wood. Looking into the courtyard below they discovered the motor garage enveloped in flames. Their cries soon roused the doctor and his faithful man-servant, Benjamin Allen, as well as the telephone assistants who were working up above. Young Allen rushed out of his room and straight through the, flames by the door, behind which was a large touring car. Although the brake was on the young man pushed the car. out of danger, and then looked 'round to see what else he could save. But, there was no hope of saving anything- else, although the Parramatta firemen, with S. O. Alchin In charge, were on the spot within six minutes of receiving the call, and with one hydrant kept the fire from spreading. The fire was very fierce for about an hour. The garage was of fibre-cement, with Hmhoiv «iinnrtK nnfl Iron roof. The fibre resisted the flames, but the heat caused the panels to burst with the noise of a cannon-shot. Mr. Pollock and others who live some distance away were awakened by the noise, and wondered where the war had broken out . Fortunately, a small car was away getting re-painted. -This car was usually kept in the part of the building in which the fire broke out. The origin of the fire is unknown. The garage was locked up for the night shortly after 6 o'clock. Many valuable parts and the usual garage outfit were destroyed, in addition to the building. The damage was estimated at £100, which Is covered by insurance. The Granville firemen were also on the scene shortly before the fire was. got under. Constables Connors and Constable were also quickly on the spot.

HAREM VEILS AND FREAK HATS INVASION OF COUNTRY VISITORS

Black frocks were to be seen in dozens, and black velvet and moire hats were so numerous as to be as uninteresting as the uniform felt headgear of the mere men. The crowd was a large and showy one, but not nearly so elite and icily select as on Saturday. The Royal Show must have, been deserted, unless a fresh relay of country people arrived in time to fill the gap, for the stands and lawns at Randwick were packed' with sun-tanned women and brown-handed men. Mrs. Phipps Waugh's bright blue gown was distinguishable in the crowd, and she saved one of the new feather mounts from her blue hat.

The opening day of the Spring Meeting was, contrary to expectations, quite as well attended as that of former seasons. DERBY DAY DRESSES, BURBERRY COATS FOR THE RAIN.

The Cup Carnival in Melbourne has for many years been looked upon as a weak over-crowded with the pleasures derived from social life In all its sections, and it has always been the custom tor prominent residents of fashionable suburbs to entertain on a large scale, either at the races, where luncheons and afternoon teas are enjoyed under the vino avenue, or by giving sumptuous dinners and elaborately-arranged, balls.

Among the New South Wales visitors pre-sent wore the Lord Mayor of Sydney and the Lady Mayoress, who, together with the Deputy Town Clerk and Mrs. Layton, also Mr and Mrs. Tom Morrow and others, were the guests at luncheon of Mr. and Mrs. roux Booth.Mrs. Phipps Waugh .(Parramatta), pistache green cloth coat and skirt, with facings of white pique and a - small white hat encircled with white and parchment coloured ivy leaves and marigolds. Her sister, (Mrs. E. DERBY DRESSES.

The V.R.C. Spring Carnival at Flemington corn mencert on Saturday, under most unfavourable weather conditions. Rain begun to fall in the forenoon, and. continued almost without intermission throughout the day. several of the races being actually run in the rain. The result was that ladies who have been wont to regard Derby Day as the first great dress-parade of the Carnival were compelled to remain enveloped in mackintoshes throughout the day. This was all the more regrettable from the fact that Mr. Secretary Byron Moore had all the lawns and promenades looking beautiful in their spring verdure—pleasing and tempting to the eye, but impracticably damp to the feet.

' ON THE LAWN.

FREAK FASHIONS.

There was not the same subdued note about the autumn dresses at Randwick on Saturday that marked last year's spring meeting. True, the navy serge suit, which has- almost become an institution, predominated. But on the other hand, some had allowed their fancy to run riot, with the result that their toilettes caused a good deal of hilarity. One innocent man from the country inquired if there was to be a fancy dress parade on the lawn. He said he had seen several ladies in fancy costume, one as a Pierrot, another as a shepherdess, and a third with a horse-blanket draped about her. -What is known as the X-ray blouse was also to be seen, and one wondered why it was permitted. Remarks were heard to the effect that, owing to the festive appearance of the scene, the only indications of the war were the preponderance of naval, military, Russian, and Belgum effects in the frocking. Black velvet and black velours hats vied as first favorites, and tete-de-negre velvet came a good second. Flared skirts, regarded with suspicion as the precursor of the crinoline, were much in evidence.

Other visitors included Sir Samuel Griffith, the Lord Mayor, Mr. W. G. Layton, the Rajah of Pudukota, Mr. Arthur Allen, Mr. Adrian Knox, Mrs-Gordon Wesche, Mrs. Phipps.Waugh,

Freeman's Journal (Sydney, NSW : 1850 - 1932), Thursday 8 April 1915, page 28

All doubts about the weather for first day of the Easter races were set at rest when Saturday was ushered in fine and. dry. Just a little too hot for winter fashions perhaps, but there was not much to grumble at, and viewed as a fashion parade; the scene was eminently satisfactory, for with the exception of a few eccentric garbs the dressing was in good taste, and one noticed an absence of glaring colours and freak effects.

Others present were : The Lord' Mayor, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hordern, Mr. Thomas Hughes, Dr. O' Gorman Hughes, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Langton, Dr. and Mrs. Kearney, Mr. Charles Ilegan, Mr. Hourigan, Mr. A. Attacked In the Appeal Court. This Time Trying to Pull Down Property Valuations.

At the Appeal Court in connection with the Parramatta municipality, at the Parramatta Municipal Courthouse on Tuesday, the matter of Meggitt's mill operations was freely and fully discussed. A. W. Granger was appealing against the Parramatta Council's assessment of his cottage property, corner of Macquarie and O'Connell-.streets. .The council's figures were: Unimproved capital value, £125; improved capital value, £1500; annual value, £108. -The appellant's figures filed wore: U.c.V;i'£319; i.c.v.j £1125; O.V., £81.. 'Mr. Todhunter;- appeared for the appellant, and at the same time It was stated that the result of that. appeal would govern that of others in the names of Dr. Waugh, Dr. Whiting, Mrs. Weston, Mr. Preston, Mr. Taylor, Mrs. Butcher, and so on. The principal. ground of appeal was stated to be the 'depreciation', of value through the proximity of Meggitt's Ltd. Oil-Mills.'

'A Parramatta Ward

The Soldier-'s Only Child. A Sad Story of the War.

Associated with the life of Captain Charles Edward Leer, who was amongst the Australian officers to fall in the preliminary military operations at the Dardanelles, is a story which begins in romance and ends in tragedy. For many years Captain Leer had been a teacher in the New South Wales Department of Public Instruction, and it was while stationed at the Rockdale Public School that he met the lady who was to become his wife. He was a pupil at the school, and, at one time was in the class taught by him. An attachment sprung up between the pair, but subsequently, when the captain's duties took him to another school, they drifted' apart. Eventually, however, they met again, and were married. The romance of their courtship continued through portion' of their married life, and when the captain, then an ordinary soldier, went: to South Africa to fight in the Boer war, his wife and baby girl took up their residence near the scene of hostilities. It was the next war in which the Empire was involved which was to bring the romantic career of Captain and Mrs. Leer to a close in a succession of tragic events involving them both, as well as the captain's mother. Captain Leer had not been in camp long before his wife took ill.' It was a serious illness, and Mrs. Leer, realising that, there -was no possibility of recovery, expressed to her relatives the belief that it would not bo long before her 'husband would be sent after her by an enemy bullet, and there would be a happy re-union hereafter. A short time afterwards, or about a fortnight before Captain Leer sailed, she died; and now, after a lapse of less than eight months, her husband has been killed. Captain Leer went away a very grief-stricken man, because the sorrow of the death of his wife was accentuated' by the loss of his mother a week later. Their one child, Miss Zillah'

Leer, is living in Parramatta with Dr. and Mrs. R. Phipps 'Waugh. When only five years old the child was sent to Miss Joan Waugh's boarding school. Her mother was not then very strong. About six years ago she returned home and had been living with her father until he left for the war. When he decided to go to the front Captain Leer, knowing the child's attachment to all of the Waugh family, especially the doctor and his large-hearted wife, asked Dr. Waugh if he would be one of her guardians and allow her to live with him. Dr. Waugh, who at that time was told that his services for the war would not be required for some time, was glad of the opportunity to make it easy for another soldier who was leaving, and now the doctor hopes that Captain Leer's daughter will still be left under his guardianship. It is Mrs. Waugh's intention to adopt the child, who is now a young lady sixteen years of age, and if arrangements can be made to take her with them to England when they sail next Saturday.

The appreciation of the members of Lodge Star of Britannia, G.U.O.O.F., Parramatta, of the services of Dr. Phipps Waugh, who for years has acted as their medical officer, was nicely and unobtrusively expressed on Thursday, when a farewell letter was delivered at the doctor's residence, together with a very useful little present. Dr. Whiting (with the assistance of a locum tenens) will attend to Dr. Waugh's practice during his absence.

Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh leave by the Mooltan next Saturday for London, where the doctor's services will be utilised for our wounded soldiers.

There was a great gathering to see the Mooltan off from Sydney. Amongst the voyageurs-were Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, their two children and Nurse Atkinson, Miss Zillah Leer (daughter of Capt. Leer, who was killed in the Dardanelles), Miss [Vera] Whiting (Mrs. Waugh's sister), Mrs. Herbert DeLow (Miss Elsie Shorter), and Mr. Ryal Ayres. On the wharf were noticed Dr. Whiting (Mrs. Waugh's brother), Misses Joan and B. Waugh, Dr. James Kearney, Mr. and Mrs. John Shorter, the Misses Shorter, Miss Jessie Ayres, Mr. W. A. Larcombo, Mrs. DeLow, Miss Helen Bowman, Mrs. and Miss Richardson, -Miss Martha Moxham, Miss Violette Smith, Mr. Ray. Rowe, etc. the travellers were loaded with gifts; from many, friends.

The young lady's father, Major Leer, it will be remembered, was one of the first of our gallant men to fall at the front.

Mrs. Waters, of Melbourne, whose husband is on active service, is spending a holiday in Sydney, and staying at the Hotel Australia. This is the first Melbourne Cup she has missed since, as Miss Whiting, of Randwick, she crossed the Victorian border as the girl bride of the well-known Melbournite, Mr. Waters. Her sister, Mrs. Phipps Waugh, is now in England with her two children while her husband, Dr. Phipps Waugh, a well-known Parramatta medico, is at one of the military base hospitals at Cairo. The two sisters were always among the most graceful frockers on the lawn at Flemington. The doctor had not missed a Cup for ten years, and he was always the life and soul of the Orient liner (or P. and O.) that took the large human freight of Cup-goers from the Harbour City in November.

RAPW wrote several letters home from the front etc, which appear in the press.

DR. 'WAUGH'S RETURN.

As we stated in our last issue, Dr. R; A. Phipps Waugh is home in Parramatta again -after some unique war experiences; and on Thursday;' afternoon a reporter from 'The Argus' office managed to catch him in and, to glean from him a word or two as to his doings during the last 20 months or so. It is a year and nine months since Dr. Waugh left us to do his bit. The Dr. looks very fit and well. Mrs. Phipps. Waugh and the two children, Bryan (9) and Sheila (7) also came out with the Dr., and are also, we are pleased to report, very well, although they have been through a very anxious time.

WELCOME-HOME AT ST. JOHN'S.

Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Phipps Waugh were the guests at a welcome— home meeting of a most successful character on Thursday evening at St. John's Parish Hall, Parramatta. The rector, the Rev. S. M. Johnstone, presided. The returned doctor soldier treated his interested listeners to a fine address, dealing with, some of his experiences since he went away to the war; and he promised to give a longer and a public address on. the same subject later on. Before the meeting came to a close Dr. and Mrs. Waugh met all those attending the function, and received a warm 'welcome-back' from each.

PARRAMATTA HOSPITAL BALL.

With Mr. F. C. Dunn (President), Mr. J. McA. Ritchie (hon. treasurer), and Messrs. T. P. C. Burstall and Allen Manton (hon. secretaries), the Parramatta District Hospital Ball, held on Wednesday night at the Town Hall was a decided success. The hall was exceptionally prettily and effectively decorated with fan palms, wattle and flags on the side walls and gallery; and overhead lines of electric light bulbs with their brightly colored crinkled paper coverings and circles, large and small, from which were suspended varicolored streamers to which the 'brilliance of the electric light, supplied by the Electric Supply Co., added greatly to the pretty scene and the decidedly effective frocking. Splendid arrangements had been made for the pleasure of all and the organising ability of the energetic committees and assistants. In working up the ball resulted very successfully and proved a most enjoyable ball.

The M's.C., Dr. Phipps Waugh, Dr. T. Daly, Messrs. F. C. Dunn, M. Morphet, W. M. Cox, A. Davies, A. Marsden and Eric Cox, were untiring in doing their part to make the ball very enjoyable. Miss Jessie Brown (hon. secretary ladies' committee), in response to her request for a donation from a leading City firm, received a cheque for £50, the firm requesting that it should be handed in from "a friend." Among those present were:- Mrs. F. C. Dunn, black lace, royal blue sequins; Miss M Lewis, gold satin, gold tissue panels; Miss Kathleen Strang, black satin and georgette; Miss Lucy Bruntnell, apricot velvet; Mrs. Phipps Waugh, brown satin grenade, lace of same shade; ~Miss Molly Hail'an, lemon taffeta; Miss Morse (Matron, P.D.H.), lemon georgette, with large black velvet flowers; Mrs. E. HELP FOR THE SAILORS In response to a request made to the Mayor (Ald. L. A. Simpson) by Her Excellency Dame Margaret Davidson, a representative meeting was held at the Town Hall, Parramatta, to assist, and enlist the sympathy of helpers in the appeal, which her Excellency is launching for funds on behalf of the men of the Mercantile Marine, A committee was formed, Mesdames Phipps-Waugh and F.C. Dunn were elected as joint hon. secs. and Mr. Brennand hon. treas. The executive committee included Mesdames Cedric Whiting, J. J. Miller, and the Misses Maud Pringle and Jessie Brown. Also present were Mesdames Selwyn Byrnes, A. Gianger, and Hawkins, Mr. F. Dunn and others who are taking a keen interest to ensure a financial success. It was decided that on Monday, November 6th, an entertainment will be held at the local Town Hall when "Mirth and Melody" will be presented by the Amateur Revue Co. Among those taking an active part in the programme are members of the Repertory -Theatre, Sydney. Tickets for this performance being 2s 6s, is 6d, and .6d booking fee. A worthy response for a splendid financial success should be the result-for such a charitable cause, and it-is hoped that the people of Parramatta will, rise to the occasion, and help the seamen; who did so much for the cause during the :war, duty which-as yet has 'not found 'practical recognition. Mesdames Phipps-Waugh and 'F. C. Dunn, as 'hon:' sec: will. gratefully receive all donations.

Wenty's Record Ball. For the Children. And Red Cross Funds. Always an energetic and up-to-date body, Wentworthville branch of the Red Cross Society was very greatly in evidence on Monday night, May 28. Under its auspices and supervision a fancy dress ball and euchre party were held in the Peace Picture Palace in aid of Wentworthville's cot at Renwelk Hospital, and its own fund. The attendance was splendid, quite 300 people taking part in both sections 'of the function, although the ball dominated greatly so far as attraction was concerned. The theatre was decorated with green bushes laced with red paper streamers. The lights were veiled with the same color, and created a soft effect, although not detracting from the brilliance of the beautiful costumes worn by the lovers of Terplschoe. Flags and patriotic emblems were artistically arranged around the walls, while the picture screen carried a' groat red cross, which unmistakeably demonstrated the nature of the gathering. When entering the hall, it immediately became evident that a great deal of earnest, zealous work had been done, and, on looking for the source, it ,as found that those responsible in the main were the members of the local Red Cross branch, viz., Mrs. E. C. Friend, president; Mrs. C. Weekes, hen, sec.; Mrs. Jowers, hon. treas.; and Mesdames Taylor, Irwin, Stevenson, Black, McPherson, and Lane. And these ladies must have been gratified by the wonderful success their labors achieved. In addition to their work, the members of the branch contributed all the good things in the refreshment line. But there were others who proved they had generous hearts. The use of the hall was freely given by the popular owner, Mr. Levy, and the music was supplied by Mrs. Green's noted jazz band. Mr. Lucas, who acted most efficiently as M.C., was what may be termed a substantial willo'-tho wisp; he was here, there, and every where, and looked after the Interests of the "trippers of the light, fantastic" in manner that was unanimously appreciated. The Grand March at nine o'clock presented a most attractive scene, and called forth hearty applause from the many spectators. After that, dancing never flagged for an instant, except when the judging of fancy costumes was being finalised. The Prizes. Prizes were donated and awarded in the several classes, the judging being most effectively carried out, with general approval, by Mesdames Cedric Whiting, Phipps Waugh, and J. J. Miller, of Parramatta. These ladies had no easy task to perform where the many characters were so faithfully represented. The awards were as follows:

OPEN-AIR FETE. On Saturday afternoon last, a fete, organised by little Miss Marjorie Cadden, in connection with the forthcoming fete aid of the Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children, was held al fresco at her parents' residence, "Ellimatta" 30 Phillip-street, Parramatta, and proved very enjoyable, and a financial success, the proceeds amounting to nearly £18. The little Misses Marjorie and Molly Cadden, instead of celebrating their birthdays in pleasure for themselves, have an annual fete, by which, with the help of their parents, and the interest of others, some hospital benefits. The opening ceremony was performed by Mrs. Phipps Waugh, who expressed her pleasure at being asked to open the function, more especially as she was, at present, interested in the Children's Hospital. She urged the parents, with their children, to visit the Children's Convalescent Home, at Collaroy, and thus realise what was being done to minimise their suffering, restore their health, and brighten their lives. Little Molly Cadden presented her with a posy of pink carnations, veiled and frilled with blue tulle.

ADULT DEAF AND DUMB

YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

THE Adult Deaf and Dumb Society's women's auxiliary committee has already plans in hand for the commencement of the year's campaign for funds. The most Important of these is a dinner dance, which will be held at the Ambassadors on April 12. Mrs. Philip Street will act as president of the committee, which has yet to be formed. There will also be an auxiliary committee of young people, with Miss Elaine de Chair as patroness. Mrs. Ida Charles (the organising secretary of the society) will act as organiser of the ball. The next meeting will be held in February to elect a committee to work for the success of the function. A movement to form a local centre to work for the society is on foot at Parramatta, Mrs. Keith Brown, Mrs. Phipps Waugh and Mrs. Cedric Waugh are taking an interest in the work, and will convene a meeting shortly to organise the Parramatta branch.

MRS. E. R. H. WAUGH.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rose Holden Waugh, widow of the late Dr. Isaac Waugh, who died at her residence, Tara, George-street, Parramatta, on Saturday last. In her 86th year, was one of the oldest residents of that town. Mrs. Waugh was a daughter of the late A. H. McCulloch, a prominent Sydney solicitor of earlier days. Dr. Waugh figured in the thrilling incidents connected with the shooting at Clontarf, by a demented man, of the Duke of Edinburgh, brother of the late King Edward. Dr. Waugh was a young naval surgeon at the time, and he was the first medical officer to go to the Duke's aid. He succeeded in stanching the flow of blood, and attended the Royal patient until the arrival of his Royal Highness' personal medical attendant. Mrs. Waugh was married at St. Mark's, Darlinghurst, in 1867, and in 1873 re-moved, with her husband, to Parramatta, where the remainder of her life was spent. She was a warm supporter of the Church of England. Prior to the interment an impressive service was conducted in St. John's, Parramatta, by the Rev S. M. Johnstone, assisted by Rev. H. W. Bader (All Saints', Parramatta). The chief mourners were Dr. R. A. Phipps Waugh (son), Miss Joan Waugh, and Miss Cassia Waugh (daughters). Mrs. Waugh (daughter-in-law), Mr. Bryan Waugh (grandson), Mr. E McCulloch (cousin), Mrs. B. Du Faur, Mrs. Basil Fairfax Ross, Mrs. E. Styles, and Miss Ethel McCulloch (nieces).

Among others at the funeral were Monsignor O'Gorman, Dr. J. Kearney, Dr. W. S. Brown, Dr. C Hogg, Dr. K. M. Whiting, Dr. C. Whiting, Dr. T. A. Daly, Dr. Keith Brown, Dr. A. H. Hart, Alderman W. P. Noller (Mayor of Parramatta), and many others.

SOCIAL GOSSIP Children's Party. A very enjoyable young folks' party was given by Mrs. Phipps Waugh at her home on Saturday evening to celebrate the 9th birthday anniversary of her son Peter. Beautiful flowers and many balloons (with a winning number) formed the pretty decorations. As all the little folk dance well, dancing was the chief attraction, interspersed with competition games. Miss Marjorie Sheridan's dance music was much appreciated. Among those present were Rosamund, Phillip, Terence, and Ivan Whiting; Margaret and Keith Moore, Peggy and Hugh Shephard, Stewart Thomas, ratty and Douglas Todhunter, Rosemary Ramsay, Jim Blair, Ken Barder, Peggy and Kathleen Meyer, Marjorie and Dick Maund, Max Todhunter, Rosemary Budge, Honor and Moira Sheridan, Valerie Benson, Margaret Lawson, Margaret Knox, Margaret and John Sheridan, and others.

Mr. Leonard Dodds Death in Hospital MOTORING ACCIDENT The death occurred at Parramatta Dis-trict Hospital on Tuesday of Mr. Leonard Dodds, of "Widemere," Wentworthville, and formerly a prominent figure in mining circles in this State.

A week previously, while driving from Parramatta towards his home, Mr. Dodds' car overturned and he received injuries which caused his death. It is assumed that Mr. Dodds, who suffered from heart trouble became suddenly ill and lost control of the driving wheel. Mr. Dodds had had a wonderful experience in mining and financial matters, and his fund of anecdote made him a most interesting raconteur. He was exceedingly popular in this district where during ten years' residence he had made numerous friends. He was a son of the late John Dodds, R.N., and was born at St. Leonards in 1861. At the age of 26 he was a company promoter, and was associated with the early development of the Broken Hill mines. He was responsible for the flotation of Broken Hill Central Mining Company, and was also associated with the Nymagee Copper Mine, the Cobar mines, and gold-mining companies at Sunny Corner and Girilambone and elsewhere. Mr. Dodds retired from business about ten years ago, and took up residence at "Widemere". He was an art collector, and his display of Streeton's earlier paintings have been described as the best in existence. Deceased is survived by a widow, three sons and a daughter. The funeral took place on Wednesday, and prior to the interment in the West-ern-road Cemetery a service was con-ducted at All Saints Church of England by Rev. G.F.P. Manning. Among those present were: Dr. W. S. Brown, Dr. E. C. Hall, Dr. Cedric Whiting, Alderman A.J. Webb (Mayor of Holroyd, Alderman. H. Walker-Benson, Messrs. A.D. Hume (town clerk), J. Dunstan electrical engineer, Holroyd), R.J. Sherlock (Parramatta Bowling Club), P.H. Robilliard, H. Fullagar, C. A. Champion, D. G. Brown, C. A. Carr (Flavelle, Roberts and Sankey, Ltd.), J. Gren-ville (representing A. M .Henderson and Co.), W. Lance and many representatives of commercial interests. Wreaths were forwarded by Ted and Viva Dodds, Sir Hugh and Lady Denison, Mrs. Alfred Lee and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glentworth Addison, Mr. Glent Addison, members of Parramatta Bowling Club, Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. James Chalmers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter May, .Mrs. W. ST. ANDREW'S FETE Splendid Result Achieved St. Andrew's' (Parramatta) fete, held in the Margaret Hospital, in aid of the Parramatta District Hospital, and the Women's Guild connected with St. Andrew's Church, was opened by Mrs. Phipps-Waugh on Wednesday, 6th inst. Mrs. J. Paterson (president), Mrs. A. Lloyd (hon. secretary), and the energetic ladies who had charge of the stalls, are to be congratulated. On the platform with Mrs. Waugh were Rev. J. Paterson and Mrs. Paterson, Mrs. E. K. Bowden and Mrs. Bruntnell (representatives of the Federal and State politicians), Rev. W. A. Marsh, and Rev. H. E. Bowden. The proceedings opened with prayer, offered by Rev. H. B. Bowden, and the Doxology was sung, with Mrs. V. Paterson as accompanist, Mrs. Waugh expressed pleasure at being present and was glad to open the fete, which was being held in aid of two such good objects. She had often heard of the good work done by the Women's Guild, and how pleasantly they worked together. The speaker felt sure that the District Hospital was very dear to the hearts of everyone, and as the monthly expenditure at the institution was in the vicinity of £1000, it was necessary for each and every one to help the cause. She hoped the organisers fully realised how much their work was appreciated and their financial help acceptable. The church workers were to be complimented on their work for these worthy objects and also the stalls display. The speaker concluded by hoping those present would spend freely and make the fete a great success. She had much pleasure in declaring the fete open. Little Jean Finlayson presented Mrs. Waugh with a posy of sweet-peas.

SABLE SEASON

FUR-TRIMMED RACE GOWNS ZOO INSPIRATION

Fearless and inquiring, the mind of woman is always looking for change. _ '' She' will try anything, from an apple to a pair of emerald green shoes with a bright scarlet frock. " Once having tried a thing, however, the woman wants something else. Besides, the apple may not have been ripe, and the shoes may have pinched. Something like this seemed to have happened at Randwick yesterday.

THE women had already tried their fur coats, coats in hundreds, and of fur of every known animal— and a few Invented by the furriers. Last meeting, as the weather grew warmer, the lockers In the cloak-rooms were bursting with chinchilla, sable, squirrel, marmot, and mink coats. Yesterday, despite a chilly morning, these were left at home. Fur was present in quantities, but mostly trimmed adorable coats of rich, heavy satin, wool crepe de chine, morocain, and other fabrics. From present appearances, this may be termed a sable season, for this golden brown luxury was present on hundreds of gowns and wraps. Clever dyers, too, had taken a hand, and so adroitly simulated this most costly fur that many imitations almost defied detection. Marmot and mink, summer ermine and fox. in a dozen shades, lent their aid, and it was to the multitude of little animals in faraway countries that the meeting owed much of its beauty. Some skirts were long, dipping almost to the ground at the back, and some were but a wisp of material above the knees of the wearer. All the wood shades, from the palest sandal to the mysterious depths of teak, through cedar, mahogany, light and dark oak, came first. So it was that the lawns, in their emerald freshness, and the gorgeous autumn flowers, might have had an easy victory in color but for the gaiety of the hats. These dotted the sombre betting ring in bright flashes of royal blue and vivid scarlet, and, with equally gay handbags, helped the womenfolk to defy the glories of nature. One woman was much envied with her big envelope bag of Suez blue, in the top of which lived a little umbrella, which fitted exactly, and yet would have been of utility had the necessity arisen for having it unfurled. The new patterned and shaded ring, in hundreds — and some delightful, some garish in colors, and skimpy in outline, rather tragic. One of these exactly reserved a bed of pansies in full bloom, t/w a mixture of mauve and green and blue. A few women had gone to the Zoo for inspiration, and so one went spotted like a IcbDatd. and another, wearing what used to be regarded as furniture velvet, was massed in tawny stripes, like a tiger. Lion effects, too. were there, in coats of the color of the lion's hide, surmounted with a huge mane of some indescribable fur. Reptile shoes; if fewer than usual, were cut by a masterhand, and gave a fine finish to a tailor-made. Suede has come back, and It joined the great parade of all the browns. Some daring visitors, secure in the knowledge that their fitting was a two, walked abroad, in bright blue or green footwear, or added a pair of three-inch scarlet heels to a pair of simple black shoes, which seemed to shrink from the contact. Hats were of ' plush, velvet, felt, vel-our, and straw, and, In size, were as you like, except that the vast shapes were, considering the crowd, mercifully absent. As a whole, the meeting provided few surprises. It was exceedingly well dressed in a sensible way. choosing crepe de chine, georgette, light wool-Hep& such as kasha, crepe metcOr, and handsome heavy satin coats.

Vice-Regal Parties

The Governor-General and Lady Stonehaven, who had a luncheon party, arrived in time for the first race. Lady Stonehaven wore an ensemble of fawn wool georgette, embroidered at hem and cuffs in silk to tone, and her hat was of fawn Baku. The Governor and Lady de Chair entertained at luncheon the Governor of South Australia and Lady Hore-Ruthven. Miss Elaine de Chair, the Premier and Mrs. Bavin, Sir Mark and Lady Sheldon, Brigadier-General and Mrs. Cavendish. Brigadier-General and Mrs. Anderson, Messrs. J. and G. Ashton, and Mr. Legh-Winser. Mrs. Phipps Waugh was one of those attracted by nigger brown, her costume of this popular shade being faced with fawn, with a hat of nigger brown felt. Her daughter. Miss Shiela Waugh, chose the one tone of blonde for hat and ensemble. The skirt of her satin dress was cleverly trimmed with uneven frills.

HOSPITAL BALL Parramatta's Brilliant Attraction GAIETY AND PRETTY FROCKS

The Parramatta District Hospital Ball was held at the local Town Hall last evening, and the general opinion was that it eclipsed the similar functions of many years. The Westmead Home band discoursed a programme of bright music at the entrance to the hall, and inside was presented a very brilliant spectacle; the beautiful decorations, very pretty frocking and delightful music of Bert Gibb's orchestra all contributed to the carnival spirit. The repeated encores of the delightful music showed the appreciation of the dancers, and the extras played by the Columbia Holster lent by the courtesy of Murray Bros., Ltd., Parramatta, were greatly enjoyed. Among the general helpers were Malstron Morse, Sister Corderoy, Sister Butter, Mesdames Butcher, Mobbs, E. J. Brown, F. C. Dunn, Blaxland, W. J. Morey, Megarvey, Morgan, Spencer, A. Mantoes, Moore, C. Jarvis Bentley, P. I. Robilliard, Misses Alicia and Joan Brown, Lunas, Cicely and Then Dare, Spencer, Linda Manton, Evans, Sherlock and others. Dr. Phipps Waugh (president), Mr. P. H. Jeffery (hon. treas.), Messrs. T. P. C. Brustall, F. C. Dunn, WV. Graham and A. Manton (joint lion. sees.) formed the executive. -- Among those present were Mrs. Lloyd, who wore clerry-belded georgette; Mrs. K. Whiting, fuchsia goorgette and satin; Mrs. F. C. Dunn,, black georgette; Mrs. Phipps Waugh, Lido blue silk lace;

QUIET WEEK-END More Public Functions SYDNEY. Monday. After a quiet week-end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Phipps-Waugh at Parramatta; Miss Amy Johnson returned to Sydney this afternoon, and recommenced her round of public functions. Her only engagement tonight was the Masonic Club Hall where she received an enthusiastic welcome from Sydney members of the craft and their wives. As usual, quite a crowd gathered outside and Miss Johnson was cheered as her car drew up at the herb. and she crossed the footpath to the door. In connection with the disappointment suffered by the large number, of people who lined the Great Western Road on Saturday, and waited in the rain, in the hope of seeing Miss Johnson. It was stated by sen. Cyril Westcott that the management of the Lapstone Hill Hotel was informed on three separate occasions that Miss Johnson would not be visiting the hotel. Mr. Kirkpatrick. managing Director of the hotel, stated to-day that he had received no notice to the effect that the flier would not be coming. and he had not been advised to cancel the booking. Mr. C H. Hay. Secretary of the Premier's Department, when seen regarding the matter, said he telephoned to the hotel, and was under the impression that he was speaking to Mr. Kirkpatrick when he said Miss Johnson would be unable to make the trip to the Blue Mountains. The following statement, in answer to criticism of the action of the police on the afternoon Miss Johnson arrived in Sydney. was issued after to-day's meeting of the Cabinet- "The Cabinet, having inquired into the complaints made against the action of the police on the occasion of the arrival of Miss Amy Johnson in Sydney the Premier sent for the Commissioner of Police (Mr. Childs). and gave him a personal assurance that the Government did not endorse the criticism to which he and his officers had been subjected. Mr. Bavin also expressed the view that the statements attributing inefficiency and acts of brutality to the members of the force were unjust, and unwarranted; further, that, in carrying out the arrangements made by the Reception Committee. the police acted in the interest of the public safety, and discharged their duty with tact and efficiency. Ample evidence in confirmation of this view has been received by the Government from unbiassed sources since the publication of these criticisms." VISIT TO KATOOMBA: Miss Johnson was one of a party which motored to Katoomba this morning, had a picnic lunch.by the roadside, and returned to the city this afternoon. She was much impressed with the Blue Mountains scenery, and said afterwards' that she thought the picnic meal and "billy tea" was "lovely. The news quickly spread through Katoomba that the famous flier was there, and hasty arrangements were made by the Deputy-Mayor (Ald. Stubbing) to give her a civic welcome. Looking very fit after her week-end rest from public functions, she cheerfully consented to a drive through the streets of the town in an open 'car. Residents lined the route and cheered as she passed. A book of Blue Mountains views was presented to her by the Deputy-Mayor

Rumour busies herself very much with Miss Amy Johnson's doings, and among other rumours was the one that she would be at the A.J.C. races on Monday, June 6, and countless racegoers tried to identify her in vice-regal boxes. The fact was, however, that Miss Johnson was "far from the madding crowd," being entertained at a real Australian picnic by Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, of Parramatta, with whom she is staying, and instead of picking (or missing) a winner she was being introduced to billy tea, Australian wild, flowers, and all the other attractions of the bush.

A Silver Wedding NOT every "bride and bridegroom" can have a silver wedding, and have quite a number of the original party around them when they celebrate a quarter of a century afterwards. Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, of Parramatta, did, however, when they gave a dinner party in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding on Saturday. Mrs. Phipps Waugh was Elaine Whiting, and the pair were married at St. Jude's, Randwick. . ' There were four bridesmaids at the ceremony, and Mrs. S. Moore, who was sister Sylvia, and Mrs. Fergus McIntyre, another sister Vera, were among those, who offered personal congratulations. And Cables, THE other two bridesmaids, Miss Gladys Teece, who is travelling abroad, and Miss Freda Lamb, who later married a naval officer, and is settled in England, sent cables. The doctor, too, had his share of support, for Dr. Herbert Kendall, who was his best man, brought Mrs. Kendall to share in the festivities. There was a place of honor for the bride's mother too. No one was more delighted than the two maids, who have been in the Phipps Waugh service for years, that the cake they made was much admired before it was cut and enjoyed.

On Sunday afternoon a large party of relatives and friends, at the Invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Brangwin-Green, met at their home, Stanhope-road, Killara, to celebrate the 80th birthday of Mrs. Melbourne Green. Mrs. Melbourne Green was born In George-street, Sydney, in 1850, and has many vivid memories of those early days. Amongst the presents received was a large birthday cake covered with eighty roses, the gift of her grand-children. Speeches were made by Mr. Clive Teece, Mrs. Albert Littlejohn, and the guest of honour. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Clive Teece, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Little-john, Miss Littlejohn, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. A GAY TOUCH DRESSES AT RANDWICK

The stage was set to perfection for the official launching of the Autumn fashions at Randwick to-day. There was just enough nip in the air for the lady with the crimson shoes and ankle-length flounced black georgette frock to hug to her figure with a slight shiver her basqued black velvet jacket and just enough for the huge majority to feel snug and warm inside their tweeds and facecloths. These found expression in every imaginable style — from jacket-suits, tailleurs and simply-cut frocks to full and three-coated ensembles and normal top-coats worn over silk frocks.

And again, there was just enough sun lurking behind the clouds to make pleasing and seasonable the unexpected amount of color which blossomed in Burgundy, Venetian red, bottle and hunter greens, and clear bright blues, either on whole ensembles, which was interwoven into the enormous quantity of flecked tweeds on parade or was used as a gay little accessory to the all-black outfit, which, as was expected, dominated the dressing of the older women, and was patronised by scores of the younger people. The millinery was interesting. Many coats and most of the furs had obviously seen service last season, but 90 per cent, of the women had stretched their purse to include a new hat. In spite of much anti-felt talk, the great bulk of the hats were in that medium. Nearly all were brimless, but at the same time more individual in shape than they have been for years. Vice-Regal Party Before the first race more than the usual attention was bestowed on the Vice-Regal parties owing to the first public appearance at Randwick, of Lady Isaacs, wife of the Governor-General. Many eyes were turned in her direction as she sat chatting in the box with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Budge, and Mrs. F. Merewether. Lady Isaacs chose a Mack flat crepe frock with a vestee of vellum georgette over which she wore a black ponyskin coat, with a collar of skunk. Her small brimmed hat of black velvet was caught with a diamond : brooch. Mrs. Merewether's unusual color scheme was chocolate brown and turquoise, blue. The coat of her brown suit was trimmed with brown ponyskin, and her small ruched hat was of velvet, in the same tone. High collars and cuffs of astrakhan trimmed Mrs. Budge's coat of grey flecked tweed, which was worn with a frock and hat of the same material. Others who joined Lady Isaacs later as the guests at luncheon were: —Governor of South Australia (Sir Alexander Hore-Ruthven), Mrs. Colin Stephen, the Lord Mayor (Aid. Jackson). Lady Mayoress (Mrs. Jackson), the Chief Justice (Sir Frank Gavan Duffy), Mrs. E. R. G. R. Evans, Sir Adrian Knox, Lady Braddon. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brunton, Mrs. David Cohen, Mrs. Tom Rolin, Mr. Harry Budge, Mr. F. Merewether, and Captain J. Williamson, A.D.C. to Sir Alexander Hore-Ruthven. The Governor (Sir Philip Game) and Lady Game had as their guests at luncheon Sir Samuel Hordern, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Warwick Fairfax, Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh,

With her was her mother, Mrs. E. Phipps Waugh, of Parramatta, who was in a frock of brown and yellow figured- crepe de chine, and wore a large-brimmed hat of brown cellophane.

REV. H. A. SHAW Welcome to Parramatta A welcome was extended to Rev. H. A. Shaw, the new minister in charge of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Parramatta, on Wednesday evening at St. Andrew's School Hall, which was well filled with parishioners and citizens. Rev. E. S. Henderson (Liverpool), Moderator, who has been in charge of the church since Rev. Paterson's retirement, presided, and on the platform with Rev. H. A. Shaw and Mrs. Shaw were the Mayor and Mayoress (Alderman H. Ohlsen and Mrs. Ohlsen), Rev. J. Paterson and Mrs. Paterson, Rev. Dr. McIntyre, Mr. J. McA. Ritchie, Rev. G. F. B. Manning (All Saints' Church, Parramatta), Rev. E. E. Hynes (Methodist Church), and Rev. McMillan (Hawkesbury Circuit). Mrs. Shaw was the recipient of a very pretty posy. Rev. E. S. Henderson welcomed Mr. Shaw, on behalf of the members of St. Andrew's Church, and was supported by Rev. Dr. McIntyre (Burnside Homes), the Mayor of Parramatta (Alderman H. Ohlsen), Rev. G. F. B. Manning (for the Anglican Churches), Rev. E. E. Hynes (Methodist Church), Mr. Stewart (Gospel Hall, Parramatta), and Rev. McMillan (Hawkesbury). The speeches were interspersed with songs by Mr. Davies, vocal duets by Mr. and Mrs. Gibb, and song by Mr. J. McA. Ritchie, all items being much appreciated. Before the termination of the proceedings and the handing round of refreshments, Mr. Munro, on behalf of the congregation, made a presentation to Rev. E. S. Henderson as a token of their appreciation of his services. Mr. Henderson suitably responded. Rev. H. A. Shaw, in expressing thanks, remarked that when present at the farewell to Rev. J. Paterson and Mrs. Paterson, he little thought that he would receive the call to Parramatta. It was a pleasure to come amongst the church members of his predecessor, who had had such a long and successful ministry, and he was determined to do everything possible as his successor. 'Among those present were the Mayor and Mayoress, Alderman W. P. Noller and Mrs. Noller, Alderman Waugh and Mrs. Phipps Waugh,

Dull Day: Gay Garb CHIC HATS

ALTHOUGH the dullness of yesterday's weather was most encouraging to the lack of interest in dress usual at mid-season's meetings, punters at Randwick, who were not so numerous, decided upon smartness. Ever so many of those chic little tricorne hats were perched jauntily upon their wearers' brows, and were worn with silks or tweeds, and did not look out of place with the stonemartens and sables brought out of summer wrappings. A slight indication of the fur trend expected for autumn wear, was noticeable, especially as elbow trimmings. With the exception of black and white, there were few one-color effects, floral silks proving most popular.A strikingly patterned silk frock was worn by Miss Elspeth Macpherson, and Sheila Waugh, who attended the races with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, found that she was not too cold in a brown flecked tweed suit.

LORD MAYOR'S BALL.

Bridge Celebration.

BRILLIANT SCENES.

The Town Hall was the scene of a brilliant function last evening when the Lord Mayor's ball, an Important event of the Sydney Harbour bridge celebrations, was held. Two thousand guests, representative of all sections of the city's life, passed in to the hall, where they were received by the Lord Mayor (Alderman Walden, garbed in flowing robes and regalia, the Lady Mayoress (Mrs. Walder). and the Town Clerk (Mr. Roy Hendy), in ceremonial wig and gown. The ballroom floor was soon the centre of a gay crowd. Beautifully decorated, with soft lights shining through masses of flowers and greenery, the great hall was transformed. The bright colours of dainty frocks, with the brilliant uniforms of military and naval officers against the formal black and white of civilians, combined to achieve a moving and memorable scene. The gathering included prominent public men, Church dignitaries, naval and military officers, representatives of the consular ser-vices, local authorities, and financial and commercial interests.

THE GUESTS.

The guests were received at the entrance to the ballroom by the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress (Alderman and Mrs. Walder) and the Town Clerk (Mr. Roy Hendy). Mrs. Walder wore a frock of silver lame, with a rope of small black flowers draped round the neckline at the back. The Lord Mayor and Town Clerk wore their robes of office.

The Vice-Regal party, which arrived shortly before 10 o'clock, included the GovernorGeneral and Lady Isaacs, the Governor and Lady Game, the Lieutenant-Governor of Vic-toria and Lady Irvine, the Governor of South Australia and Lady Hore-Ruthven, the Chief Justice and Lady Street, Commodore Holbrook, Brigadier-General and Mrs. Heritage, Captain and Mrs. Feakes, and others.

ANZAC BALL Brilliant Spectacle

Last evening the first annual Anzac Ball of the Macarthur Sub-Branch (Parramatta) R.S. and S.I.L.A. was held at the Parramatta Town Hall, in the presence of his Excellency Sir Philip Game. The proceeds were in aid of the sub-branch funds. The executive included Mr. F. J. Stephenson (president and organiser), Mr. Collect (past president), Messrs. C. Gray and H. Pilgrim (vice-presidents), Mr. Ray Rowe (hon. sec.), and Mr. R. Gates (hon. treas.). The hall was effectively decorated by the members of the Macarthur' Sub-Branch (Parramatta) in a color scheme of red, white and blue, brilliantly lighted with similar coloured electric light bulbs. The stage was artistically arranged with the original unit flags of A.I.F., with a scintillating design in the foreground of the rising sun-a symbolical design-Australia's sons rose at sunrise on Anzac Day, 1915. The supper-room was excellently decorated by Mesdames E. C. Bensley, Pilgrim and Greer in a color scheme of. twotoned Iceland poppies.

The debutante Miss Bessie Chambers, was presented to his Excellency Sir Philip Game by Mrs. Phipps Waugh. The 4th Cavalry Division Band played on the arrival of the Governor. At the entrance to the hall his Excellency 'Sir Philip Game inspected the guard of honor, formed of 21st Field Artillery Brigade, in charge of Lieut. Sollett, and, on entering the hall, inspected the guard of honor formed by returned soldiers of the Macarthur Sub-Branch, Parramatta. Mr. Michael Kinnane was also presented to the Governor by the president, Mr. Stephenson. Among the official guests were the Mayor and Mayoress (Alderman H. Ohlsen and Mrs. Ohlsen), Alderman W. P. Noller (Deputy Mayor) and Mrs. Noller, Mr. S. Davies (Town Clerk), Mr. L. A. Robb (State President, R.S. and S.I.L.A.) and Mrs. Robb, Mr. R. D. Hadfield (State secretary) and Mrs. Hadfield, Col. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh. The duties of doorkeepers were carried out by Messrs. D. Hosford and H. Shipsey; Mr. W. Gates was in charge of the tickets; and Mr. Tom Moorhouse and Mr. R. J. Heany (gentleman's cloak room). Among those present were:Mrs. Phipps Waugh, dark green georgette with fur trimming;

THREE WEDDINGS

FAMILY TARTAN Tied Bride's Bouquet.

The Menzies tartan tied the bouquet of white lilac and white heather carried by Miss Bessie Menzies, only child of the late Mr. J. A. Menzies and Mrs. J. A. Menzies, of Drummoyne, and granddaughter of the late Mr. T. G. Hewitt, of Lismore, at her wedding last night at the Presbyterian Church, Drum-moyne, to Mr. Alister L. Fuller, second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fuller, of Wellington, N.S.W. The bride wore a simply-cut gown of white satin, enveloped with a veil of cut tulle, which was caught to her head with orange blossom. A sister of the bridegroom, Miss Ruth Fuller, was the bridesmaid, wear-ing a frock of white organdie and a coronet of red carnations, and carrying a bouquet of the same flowers. Mr. J. Sloane was best man. The Rev. A. C. Grieve officiated.

After the ceremony, Mrs. Menzies enter-tained immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom at her residence, Toongar, Drum-moyne, where Mrs. A. E. Fuller, mother of the bridegroom, assisted her In receiving the guests.

ROSS-WAUGH.

Miss Sheila Waugh, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, of Parramatta, was married last night at the historic old church of St. John's, Parramatta, to Dr. David Ross, of Ashfield, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Ross, of Beecroft. With her long gown of parchment satin, which had a train cut into the skirt and lined with tulle, the bride wore a veil of tulle caught with clusters of orange blossom at the back of the head. Her bouquet was of lily-of-the-valley. Dr. Waugh gave his daughter away, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. M. Johnstone. The bridesmaids were the Misses Dorothy Windeyer (Trangie), Isobel Brown, and Rosamund Whiting, who wore peach pink organdie frocks, hats, and gloves, and carried pink tulips and roses. The bridegroom's little niece, Merran Nelson, was the train-bearer, in a white organdie Kate Greenaway frock and poke bonnet. Dr. Robert Back was best man, and Dr. Alec Ross, Mr. Peter Waugh (the bride's brother), and Mr. Phillip Whiting, groomsmen. The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. Mrs. Waugh received her guests wearing a dusty-pink satin gown trimmed with monkey fur, and a brown tulle hat.

Death Under Anaesthetic Woman's Sudden Collapse Suddenly collapsing while under an anaesthetic, Violet Ella Blanche Denzel (33), of Northmead-avenue, Northmead, died at the Parramatta District Hospital on October 11. An inquiry was held by the district coroner (Mr. H. Richardson Clark) at Parramatta last Thursday. The evidence disclosed that Mrs. Denzel underwent an operation for the removal of the gall bladder. The operation was performed, and the stitching of the wound was about to be done, when the patient suddenly collapsed, and her heart stopped beating. All efforts to restore her were unsuccessful. Evidencxe of having adminstered the anaesthetic under the supervision of Drs. Waugh and Cedric Whiting was given by Dr. Kingsley, one of the resident medical officers at the Parramatta District Hospital who said that although there appeared to be no organic disease of the heart, the patient seemed to be suffering from the effects of toxemia. It was essential to operate. When she collapsed -and she collapsed very suddenly -the patient had been under anaesthetic for about an hour and a half. Dr. Cedric Whiting said that the proper anaesthetic was used, and that it was administered in a proper and skillfull manner. When the patient coppased everything was done to restore her. The cause of death was myocarditis aggravated by absorption of poison in the system from the septic gall bladder. Mrs. Johnstone, sister of the deceased asked why the patient's strength was not built up in the hospital before the operation was performed. "She was getting worse all the time," Dr. Whiting said. "If the operation had been delayed, I have no doubt that she would have died from blood poisoning from the septic gall bladder." Dr. Waugh, who performed the operation said that the deceased had been suffering from inflammation of the gall bladder for the last eight years. "The only way to restore her health was to operate" the doctor said. The witness said that the anaesthetic was properly administered, and that, when the patient collapsed, everything possible was done to restore her. Regarding the question asked by Mrs. Johnstone, Dr. Waugh said that the patient did not require building up by food. If she had not been operated on, she might have died at any time. Mrs. Johnstone: You have been attending Mrs. Denzel for a long time. Why did you not operate on her before? An operation was suggested to her many times, but she didn't like the idea of an operation. Dr. Waugh said that, in twenty six years, this was his first experience of death under anaesthetic. The coroner found that the death was due to the anaesthetic and poisoning of the system from the septic gall bladder, that the anaesthetic was skilfully administered and the operation skilfully performed, and that, when the patient collapsed everything possible was done to restore her.

Red-Coated Partners MILITARY BALL

It is not often that men take precedence in providing a brilliant color effect at a dance, but at the ninth annual ball of the 2nd Division night, the red coats of the officers, unsurpassed the frocking of the womenfolk. COLORFUL, too, were the decorations of flags and flowers, each battalion "of the division being represented by a shield and flag attached to the pillars of the ballroom. A feature of the ball was the presentation of six debutantes to the Lieutenant-Governor (Sir Philip Street) and Lady Street, each girl wearing a uniform Alice in Wonderland band of white flowers in her hair, with white frilly frocks. Their unusual bouquets had horseshoe trails falling from clusters of flowers. A color contrast was produced by their red-coated partners In the debutante waltz. Sir Philip and Lady Street, who were accompanied by Colonel and Mrs. V. C. Seccombe, were received by Major-General Sir Charles and Lady Rosenthal, their entrance into the ballroom being marked by a fanfare of trumpets and a roll of drums. Lady Street, who was presented with a bouquet, wore a gown of black net encrusted with large chenille flowers, and finished with a wide black velvet gulmp. Mrs. Seccombe's water melon pink lace frock was worn with a short black velvet coat. Lady Rosenthal gave color to her black lace frock, with a bouquet of red flowers. She presented the debutantes, Misses Dawn Jackson, Marie Pots, Irene Ingalls, Murlei Ross, Joy Coleman, and Patricia Davis, who were accompanied to the Vice-Regal dais by Mrs. A. S. Allen, wife of Colonel Allen, president of the ball committee. Mrs. Allen wore an attractive gown of blossom pink flat crepe, with tiny frills of tulle falling from the knee, and also forming extended shoulders. A high halo of pink, and a bouquet of daffodils completed the ensemble. The Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress (Alderman and Mrs. Parker), the latter wearing claret satin, and the Town Clerk (Mr. Roy Hendy) and Mrs. Hendy, whose frock of parchment tulle was relieved with a sash of rainbow ribbon, falling below her gold lame coat, were In the official party; also Colonel and Mrs. P. A. Magulre, Lieutenant-Colonel P. M. McParlane, Brigadier and Mrs. A. J. Mills, Colonel and Mrs. J. D. Lavarack, and Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. R. M. Scoble. Midnight blue and silver flat crepe was worn by Mrs. R. E. Jackson, who came with Colonel Jackson to see their daughter presented. Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, the latter In mushroom pink flat crepe, were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. David Ross, who wore her beautiful wedding gown of white satin, and Dr. Ross.

"My Kingdom for a Horse" Dr. Waugh's Fondness for the Equine

Everybody in this district knows Dr. Waugh of Parramatta. A native of the town he has spent practically the whole of his life within hearing distance of St. John's bells. His father was a highly-esteemed Parramatta medico in the days when our beards were black. As a lad Dr. Waugh's chief attraction was an equine. It still is. The late Bruce Walker, M.L.A., used to tell that he saw young Waugh jump his horse over a hooded buggy. With Ripley we say, Believe it or Not. The doctor's burly figure is far removed from that of a jockey. Yet he rode many years ago of course-in a steeplechase at Rosehill. That he didn't win matters not. At the King's School he was a Rugby' Union stalwart and later played with the Varsity team. When he cast aside his blue and gold jersey he pulled on a referee's white one and blew his whistle with full effect. His love of a horses and his fondness of Lancer's plumes lured him into the Parramatta squadron of Lancers some forty odd years ago. in 1897, after he had been elevated to the rank of sergeant, he was selected as one of a detachment of Lancers to represent his State at, Queen's Victoria's jubilee celebrations in London. He served at the front with the A.&O., with distinction, as did his partners, Drs. Keith and Cedric Whiting. Naturally, he has a very complete stock of Digger yarns. For some time he has been a Parramatta alderman and has found the job not unlike that of the football referee. Had he so desired he might have been

Mayor for several terms. Dr. Waugh plays golf a little; there was a time when he played quite a lot. He found, however, that he could not attend a race meeting and play golf on the same Saturday afternoon-so he gave up golf. As a member of Parramatta Rotary Club he has delivered a few interesting talks' on his trips to the East. Of course, he did not tell all. He agrees with Cowper that: "Variety's the very spice of life, That gives it all its flavor."

ONLY a tiny sprinkling of women-hood in the crowd of hardened racegoers that flocked to Rosehill,' but they revelled in warm sunshine with nary a drop of rain to damp their ardor. s Tailored suits, rough tweed, and racy felt hats were almost universal wear. Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Friend, her sister, Una Clift, Dr. and Mrs. R. Phipps Waugh, Lady Barraclough, Misses Ethel Rankin, Margery Little, and Nan Garvin, were all be-suited and be-felted.

ENTERTAINMENT. To Aid Free Kindergartens An entertainment in aid of the Free Kindergartens of N.S.W., which is being organised by Mrs. O. T. Parkinson, of the King's School, will be held in All Saint.' Parish Hall, on Tuesday, August 18, commencing at 8 p.m. Well-known people who have given their patronage include: Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Gollan, Mr. and Mrs H. P. Reed, Col. and Mrs. Martin, Mr J. Westmacott, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Moorhead, and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Watson. The entertainment will include a series of tableaux, arranged by Mrs. Sterling Levis, depicting Old China, and will be presented by members of Parramatta's Younger Set. There will be incidental music during the tableaux by Mr. Mervyn Williams, music director of the King's School. Two one-act plays will follow. "Smoke Screens," by members of the Macquarie Book Club's Play-reading Society; and "Thirty Minutes in a Street," presented by the Monitor's Reading Society of the King's School. Many ladies are giving active support in arranging bridge parties to defray expenses. They will also decorate the hali, and organise the selling of sweets during the performance. These include Mrs. Phipps Waugh, Mrs. Cedric Whiting, Mrs. Styles, Mrs. Keith Brown, Mrs. Copeland, Mrs. Garnock, Mrs. Keith Whiting, and many others.

HOUSE-WARMING PARTIES.

New Home at Parramatta.

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Berge's new home at Parramatta was a delightful setting for the cocktail party they gave on Saturday night, and again for the buffet tea last night. The house, which is built of red texture bricks and a deeper red woodwork, is of unusual design. One enters through a large sun parlour, which has a modern version of old French doors, opening into the lounge. Arches lead from there into a lounge hall, from which, the dining room is entered through sliding doors.

Mrs. Berge's frock was of embossed velvet in autumn colouring.

Among the 100 guests present on Saturday night were Judge and Mrs. H. Lamond, Dr. and Mrs. Halero Wardlaw, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Winston, Dr. and Mrs. E. Griffiths. Dr., and Mrs. McGregor Cutler, Dr. and Mrs. Phipps Waugh, Major and Mrs. E. Bruce, the French Commissioner for Trade in Australia, M. G. Bader, and Mme. Bader, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Healy, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Haydock, Mr. and Mrs. George Ramsay, Mr. and Mrs. W. Robillard, Mr. and Mrs. George Christie, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. J. £1,148 IN FUND FOR WAR VICTIMS

P'matta Appeal LADIES TO' ORGANISE COLLECTIONS That £1148 had been subscribed to the Parramatta fund to assist civilian war victims in Britain was announced by the Mayor (Alderman P. H. Jeffery) at Parramatta Town Hall last night-at a public meeting called for the purpose of furthering the appeal. The attendance was woefully small. It would have been much smaller but for the "LAMPS," who had assembled for their own meeting but decided to attend this one first. Honorary collectors were appointed for an intensive appeal within the next fortnight. And Mrs. Cedric Whiting will convene a meeting of ladies for the purpose of organising subsequent house-to-house collections. A small committee was appointed to consider Rev.. I. A. Shaw's suggestion that portion of the money should be spent in the purchase of goods for despatch to Britain. On the platform with the Mayor were Bishop W. G. Hilliard. Rev. T. A. Shaw, Aldermen T. H. Harvey, R. A. P. Waugh. W; R. Musto, W. Cameron, and H. Vaughan. and the town clerk (Mr. L. N.. Brown). "Lengthy speeches are quite unnecessary on an occasion like this," Bishop Hilliard said, "When we have before us an appeal that must stir everybody who has a drop of British blood in him. "The Motherland stands up. on behalf of civilisation and the future of the human race against the onslaught of thosi evil things with which Nazi Germany has asesoviited herself. She stands as the champion of all that makes life worth living. Y. i, "MAGNIFICENT PEOPLE." "London is standing up to it nagnlificantly. And one thrills as one thinks, not only of those gallant young heroes of the air, not only of the magnificent men of the Fleet. not only of the gallant troops; but also of those magnificent people--ordinary humble people-who are proving to Hitler that he Just can't break the morale of the British people. "We must show them that we really are behind them; that we really want to share some of the burden that they are shouldering." Announcing that £1148 had been subscribed since the appeal was launched on Friday week, the Mayor said that the Parramatta Mayoral Patriotic Fund committee had donated £100. "I think it's the desire of the council that this fund should be closed as soon as possible," he said. "We want to make it a short and sharp, appeal, and hope to close it. if possible, at the end of next week," Emphasising the need for a more sustained effort. Alderman Waugh said that everybody should be given an opportunity to subscribe ar small amount regularly. On his motion Mrs. Cedric Whiting-from whom he had received the suggestion that house-to-house collections be made--was appointed to convene a meeting of ladles to organise stich collections. As money was needed urgently for relief in Britain, it was decided to make an intensive effort to raise as much as possible within the next fortnight, and then close "the main fund." Mr. and Mrs. R. Willis, Mr. C. A. Storey, Mrs. R. C. Thomas, and Mr. E.. G. Huxley responded to as call for honorary collectors for this purpose.

OF FEMININE INTEREST

Last Saturday, hordes of women streamed into. Mrs, R. A. P...Waugh's home in Marsden-street to be entertained by the passing-show as presented by Mrs, Pat Walsh of ("The Latest Styles," a Church-street lady whose ideas when it comes to dress are "tops" for either he streamlined or, the other brand of locals. Aiding and abetting the Walsh lady and her off-sider, the not-so-long' ,married Mrs. Brand, were the Misses Maoya and Mollie Wilson, specialists in vastly becoming "lids." Jewels (ancient and modern) which twinkled and winked on the various creations were from the exclusive house of Misses de Jaunay and Wells. Sheltering behind tall sprays of gladioli and other expensive blooms, which looked as if they might have come from the floral farm of Miss Rose, of North Rocks, were Mrs. ,S. Woolnough and Mrs. Cole. Theirs was the task of separating one and all from their tickets, or, the half-crowns in lieu thereof, with the result, that the A.A.M.C., for which' the "do" was held,; will be something like £25 better off. That most charming of all hostesses, Mrs. R. A. P. Waugh, who is president of the fund, wore black, with two strings of genuine pearls. Her fair-haired daughter, Mrs. [Sheila] Ross, was another who wore black; so did Mrs. Cedric Whiting and Mrs. Berge (the latter being secretary).
